

U.S. Economy Bounces Back

... Advance Is Midway Between What Optimists, Pessimists Expected

By EDWIN L. DALE JR.

Washington — The nation's total output resumed fairly vigorous growth in the first quarter of this year, although a good part of the reason was the recovery from the General Motors strike, the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

The gross national product (GNP), the comprehensive measure of the output of goods and services, rose by a record $28.5 billion. After adjustment for higher prices, the rise was $11.3 billion, which was a large increase but in percentage terms well short of a record.

In general, the closely watched GNP, preliminary results fell about midway between the projections of the optimists and the pessimists. The first-quarter growth reinforced the Nixon administration's general optimism about the economy this year, but it was not enough to alter the widespread doubts that the administration's high targets for the year as a whole will be reached.

The growth in total output in the first quarter halted the steady rise in unemployment that prevailed for most of 1970 but was not enough to start unemployment heading decisively downward again.

Big Elements

The GNP measures output by how much is spent on goods and services. The big elements in the first quarter growth were revived consumer buying of autos, continued strong consumer spending on services, sharply higher construction of housing and a record advance in spending by state and local government, partly reflecting greater ease in selling their bonds.

By contrast, there was relatively little rise in business spending on new plant and equipment and there was a further small decline in federal defense spending. These two sectors of the economy are expected to be relatively weak all year, although the second half may see an increase in business investment.

Despite the revival of automobile purchases after the strike, consumers were not heavy spenders in the first quarter. They saved an estimated 7.2% of their after-tax incomes, a little less than the 7.4% of the final quarter of 1970 but still high by past standards.

Harold C. Passer, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, said "a strong and balanced economic expansion for the remainder of 1971 clearly requires a vigorous upturn in consumer spending."

These were some highlights of today's report:

—The GNP in the first quarter was put at $1,018,400,000, the first time it has passed the trillion-dollar mark for a quarter. In 1968 dollars, the GNP reached $731.6 billion, a shade above the previous record for "real" GNP of $730.9 billion reached in the third quarter of 1969.

—The increase from the depressed final quarter of 1970 was 12% in dollar terms, the biggest quarterly increase since late 1953, when the economy was also emerging from a recession.

—After adjusting for higher prices, "real" GNP rose by 6.5%, higher than normal but far from a record. This figure was last attained in the second quarter of 1968.

The price index for the GNP rose at an annual rate of 5.2% in the first quarter, still a high rate of inflation but less than the 5.9% of the fourth quarter of 1970.

In another report, the Commerce Department said personal income in March rose by $5.9 billion to an annual rate of $836.3 billion. While this was twice the advance in February, it was not unusually large.

Amendment To End Tax On Food Eyed

... SOUGHT BY CARPENTER

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Terry Carpenter Thursday said he will ask the Legislature to submit to the electorate a proposed constitutional amendment which would prohibit sales tax collections on food purchases.

Carpenter said he would attempt to amend Sen. William Skarda's bill seeking to exempt food purchases from the sales tax to transform it into a constitutional proposal if the Legislature agrees to bring the measure to the floor for debate.

If it does not, the Scottsbluff senator noted, he would then ask Gov. J. James Exon to introduce such a bill in the 1971 session.

Carpenter would need committee sponsorship and 25 votes to get a new bill introduced on his own.

The governor can present a new bill with the signature of a single senator.

Skarda expects to attempt to bring his bill, LB567, out of the Revenue Committee next Monday. That effort will require 25 affirmative votes.

Carpenter said his proposal would "let the people determine the issue."

Although there has been talk of placing the issue before the electorate through a petition campaign, Carpenter noted, there is "some doubt" that the constitution permits the people to make initiative or referendum changes in the revenue laws.

State law directs the secretary of state to refuse to accept petitions placing a revenue question on the ballot.

Secretary of State Allen Beermann confirmed that he would "have to turn them down" as required by law.

Exon strongly supports Skarda's bill to exempt food purchases. The governor vetoed an alternative proposal enacted by the Legislature to increase the food tax credit from $7 to $10 per person.

At issue in the food tax exemption proposal is an estimated $4 million in annual revenue.

2 Brink's Men Slain; Gunmen Get No Loot

Chicago (AP) — Two gunmen shot and killed two Brink's, Inc., armored express guards during a holdup Thursday but obtained no loot.

Police who swung into a widespread search said the guards were shot down without warning just after they had made a $600 pickup at the Southway Hotel at King Drive on the South Side. They theorized the gunmen had been hiding in a nearby alley for the truck which picked up receipts at the hotel six days a week.

One of the guards was slain behind the wheel of the vehicle where he had waited for his partner to return with the collection. The second was shot down as he entered the vehicle.

Police first reported the killers fled with some cash. But a check by Brink's officials later disclosed nothing missing.

Donald Hoagland, Brink's vice president, said receipts from collections made earlier by the guards, as well as the $600 picked up at the hotel, were found in the truck.

Police said witnesses reported the gunmen fled through the alley.

A pistol was found in a paint can in the alley and it was being checked against bullets recovered from the Brink's truck.

William Hudson, the first policeman to reach the scene, said coins and "stacks of $10 and $20 bills were on the floor" of the truck. Officials said the gunmen apparently were scared off after killing the guards, and fled without trying to take any cash.

A revolver belonging to one of the guards was found on the floor of the truck. "It had been cocked but not fired," Hudson said.

The slain men were Gerald Creaney, 29, and Gerald T. O'Connor, 40. O'Connor had worked for Brink's 16 years and Creaney for more than four years.

Mrs. Everroad Found Dead

Omaha (AP) — Mrs. Ruby Everroad, wife of former lieutenant governor John Everroad, was found dead of apparent carbon monoxide poisoning Thursday on the floor of the garage at her Omaha home, police said.

Mrs. Everroad's car was in the garage with the ignition key in the on position although the motor was not running, officers said.

Acting Douglas County Coroner George Sullivan has ordered an autopsy.

Neighbors told police Mrs. Everroad had been under a doctor's care. Police reported finding a note in the kitchen alluding to her worsening physical condition.

Everroad, 58, was lieutenant governor under Norbert Tiemann. He had begun divorce proceedings in February, but they were not final yet. The couple has one son, John Jr., 23, an unsuccessful candidate for the legislature last November.

Friends said the couple had been separated for about a year.

University Budget Boosted $3.7 Million By Committee

... NONRESIDENT TUITION HIKE ADDED

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Budget Committee, by a one-vote margin, Thursday approved an addition of nearly $3.7 million to Gov. J. James Exon's original recommendations for the University of Nebraska.

The move would provide NU with about $1.45 million more than Exon said this week he would agree to restore to the university's operational budget.

In a surprise action, however, the committee also agreed to help fund an increase with a hike in nonresident tuition, and the committee was told the tuition change would generate another $704,000 in cash funds.

Would Require More

Exon had told the committee he was recommending increasing his original recommendations for NU operational appropriations by some $2.26 million, but the committee's action apparently would require as much as $3 million more.

In an afternoon-long executive session, the committee also took a host of other appropriations actions, including one reducing by $3.2 million the governor's recommendation for the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

That change resulted in a switch from two-to one-year allocation, mostly for school employee service annuities.

Fund Enriched

And the committee voted to enrich the general fund by more than $700,000 by limiting cash fund reappropriations for the Banking Department's securities fund and the motor vehicle inspection fund.

The 5-4 vote on the NU budget virtually endorses Chancellor D. B. Varner's request for a "continuation" budget for the Lincoln campuses, assuming the additional funds can be generated by the increased tuition.

The chancellor had told the committee by letter that the regents had lowered their requests to $44.2 million, down from the $58 million in state tax funds asked by NU last fall.

'No Enrichment'

Varner said that level of funding, although providing for "no enrichment of the program which exists," would not necessitate "significant cut-backs."

The tuition hike for out-of-state students will apparently take the university by surprise, however. The new rate would be $1,158 as compared with the present $855. The regents had told the committee they would agree to a new nonresident rate of $932 next year.

The $1,158 and a new regents-endorsed rate of $432 for resident students would put both figures at third highest in the Big 8.

Higher Rates

Regents had proposed higher rates last fall when they were asking for the $58 million, a figure which was at first cut back some $17.5 million by the governor.

The committee-approved increase of $3,666,114 would surpass the governor's revised recommendations in four major programs — administration, instruction, plant operation and extension.

The governor had recommended lesser increases for those programs, increases which would be offset partly by some income items not originally included plus $733,000 in additional appropriations from the state's general fund.

New Income Items

Among the new income items the governor identified were funds to be switched from a $1 million discretionary fund for the regents and $215,000 which the governor said he would recommend be removed from his capital construction proposals.

One proposal from a committee member, who later withdrew it, would have removed $213,000 from the recreational roads funds appropriations earlier approved and earmarked those funds for NU.

A motion to reconsider that earlier action was still on the table when the committee adjourned late in the afternoon. It will meet again early next week to complete actions on the few matters remaining before it.

Exon Seeks To Nullify Hike In ADC Payments

Gov. J. James Exon Thursday asked the Legislature's Appropriations Committee to nullify the effect of earlier legislative action funding increased authorized payments for aid to dependent children in fiscal 1971-72.

Exon urged the committee by letter to reduce his welfare budget recommendation for ADC by $1,696,309 in state tax support from the general fund.

That reduction would match the fiscal 1971-72 appropriation for increased ADC funding contained in LB639A, which cleared the Legislature last month over Exon's objections with sufficient strength to forestall a gubernatorial veto.

The bill was enacted on a 33-112 vote, stripping Exon of his veto powers over the appropriations made in excess of his budget recommendations.

The committee decided to seek more information on the governor's request before taking action.

LB639A provided funds to pay the increase in authorized maximum ADC payments required by the federal government.

Its total general fund appropriation was $2,162,891, with $466,782 of that total available for expenditure during the remainder of the current fiscal year.

Exon had indicated after enactment of the bill that he might attempt to alter the decision.

While the governor supported the increase in authorized maximum payments, he had intended to attempt to keep welfare payments within the limits of his earlier budget recommendations.

If necessary, the governor said, the Department of Public Welfare would prorate needs standards, thus reducing payments to some ADC recipients, in order to stay within his budget.

The committee has already approved Exon's previous welfare recommendations.

In other welfare action, a motion to advance to the floor a bill which would shift an estimated $3 million in annual administrative costs from state to county government failed on a 3-2 vote. Five votes are required to advance.

The bill, LB642, was held for later action.

New York Times News Summary

U.S. Says China Moves Not Aimed At Russia

Washington — The White House stressed Thursday that recent U.S. activity to improve relations with Communist China was not intended to embarrass or exert pressure on the Soviet Union. Presidential spokesman Ronald Ziegler emphasized that the recent moves were not attempts to influence the strategic arms limitations talks or the status of Berlin.

Reporter Enters China

Canton, China — New York Times correspondent Tillman Durkin, who had been barred from entering Communist China since 1948, became the first American admitted to China for regular news coverage since the 1950s. Only a slight hitch at the border marred his entry onto the mainland.

France Ends Negotiations

Paris — France cut off further negotiations with Algeria Thursday and indicated that existing ties would be on a strictly business basis. The French move was a reaction to Algeria's unilateral decision to take over a majority interest in French oil assets.

Mansfield Defends FBI

Washington — Charging that recent criticism was "more noise than substance," Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield defended the FBI and Director J. Edgar Hoover. Mansfield said he would not replace Hoover if he were president.

FBI Bugged Rep. Dowdy

Washington — The FBI sent an informant who was wired with a tape recorder into the office of Rep. John Dowdy and later monitored and recorded some of the congressman's telephone conversations, reliable sources said. (More on Page 2.)

At Least 10 Subpoenaed

Boston — At least 10 persons were subpoenaed by the FBI to appear before the grand jury which indicted the Rev. Philip Berrigan and five others on kidnap and conspiracy charges. The subpoenas were the result of a renewal of the grand jury's probe.

Catholic Policies Challenged

New York — A Catholic Church-sponsored report has declared there is no solid theological foundation for church policies banning women from the priesthood or restricting priests from marrying. (More on Page 21.)

FBI Spied On Congressman, Bugged Phone Conversations

The New York Times

Washington — The FBI sent an informant into Rep. John Dowdy's office on Capitol Hill in 1970 with a hidden tape recorder strapped to his back, according to reliable sources.

The FBI also monitored and presumably recorded telephone conversations between the informant and the Texas Democrat who has been indicted for accepting $25,000 in a bribery conspiracy.

The sources stress that these FBI actions did not lend support to the charges of Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., the House majority leader, that the FBI was tapping the telephones of congressmen because it was listening in at the informant's end, not at Dowdy's.

Drive Begun In Highlands

Saigon (P) — South Vietnamese troops under a U.S. air umbrella launched a drive in the central highlands Thursday against North Vietnamese forces who have been on the attack there for 15 days.

In a push through the jungle-covered mountains, the South Vietnamese were trying to track down and destroy a regiment of North Vietnamese regulars on the southern sector of the highland front.

With several fresh battalions thrown in, the South Vietnamese combat force in the highlands sector rose to 6,000-7,000 men.

They were backed up by an array of U.S. fighter-bombers, fast-firing helicopter gunships, and long-range artillery.

Opposing them were elements of four North Vietnamese regiments, estimated variously from 6,000-8,000 men and probably backed up with reserves across the border in Laos and Cambodia.

The fighting sectors stretch from 200 miles north of Saigon to about 300 miles north of the capital near the Cambodian and Laotian frontiers.

The new South Vietnamese drive was launched on the southern anchor of the front near Fire Base Lonely, one of the hilltop outposts menaced by North Vietnamese forces. Lonely is 80 miles south of Fire Base 6, where the enemy launched his offensive.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command reported 42 Americans died in combat last week, down from 88 killed in the week previous.

The South Vietnamese command reported 523 troops killed last week, equal to the number killed the previous week.

They said that the FBI acted in the Dowdy case only after prodding by local U.S. Atty. Stephen H. Sachs and after Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell gave his personal approval. That Federal District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen approved the moves in advance and that the moves were specific actions taken in a single criminal investigation, not ongoing surveillance.

These FBI steps do contradict recent statements by Justice Department officials that the FBI has never engaged in electronic surveillance of congressmen, even in investigating specific illegal acts.

On April 7, for example, Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst said in an interview on a Columbia Broadcasting System news program:

"There have been a few specific instances where members of Congress have been accused of the commission of a specific illegal act. The bureau (FBI) would naturally conduct a limited investigation with respect to any such illegal conduct."

"But the issue here is whether or not the bureau has used electronic surveillance or the tapping of telephones of senators and congressmen even in a case like that, and the bureau has not done so."

Wednesday, a reporter asked a Justice Department spokesman whether the FBI had ever engaged in electronic eavesdropping on any congressman. The spokesman answered:

"The FBI has never installed an electronic listening device of any kind in the home, office or on the telephone of a U.S. senator or congressman."

Thursday, the reporter asked whether the FBI had ever used an electronic listening device without installing it. The Justice Department refused to answer the question, saying it would "stand on" its earlier response.

Asked if a hidden tape recorder would be considered an electronic listening device, a department spokesman said: "I assume so."

Indicted March 30

Dowdy was indicted March 30 by a federal grand jury in Baltimore. He is accused of accepting a bribe in return for seeking to block a Justice Department prosecution of home remodelers in the Washington area. The indictment also accused Dowdy of committing perjury five times in an appearance before the grand jury on March 4.

Dowdy has denied the charges and in turn has alleged that "powerful and influential enemies" are seeking to end his effectiveness "in ferreting out nonfeasance, malfeasance and misfeasance of government" in the District of Columbia.

Dowdy is a member of the House Committee on the District of Columbia.

FRANK SINATRA Jean Hersholt Award

GLENDIA JACKSON Best Actress

GEORGE SCOTT Best Actor

Scott Named Best Movie Actor

Hollywood (P) — George C. Scott, who scorned the Academy Awards as contrived and degrading, was named best actor of 1970 Thursday night for his powerful portrayal of a fighting World War II general in "Patton."

He has said that if he sent him an Oscar, he'd send it back. The academy said the golden statuette will be held for him if he wants it.

Glenda Jackson, the emotion-torn English girl of "Women in Love," was selected best actress. She was making a film on Cyprus and her award was accepted by Juliet Mills.

"Patton," a panorama of armored warfare in Africa and Europe, was declared the best picture of 1970. The film was top winner in the 43rd awards, with seven Oscars. Besides Scott and the picture, Franklin Schaffner for direction and Francis Ford Coppola and Edmund H. North for best story and screenplay.

Scott, 43, deemed one of the films' finest performers but long a foe of awards for actors, had asked that his nomination for his role as Gen. George S. "Blood and Guts" Patton be withdrawn. It wasn't. He told an interviewer recently that were he sent an Oscar, he would send it right back.

The actor, in New York making a movie, issued this word earlier in the day on the ceremonies: "Win, lose or draw, I have no statement."

Scott said after his nomination. "It is degrading to have actors in competition with each other... in a public display of contrived suspense." In 1962 he rejected a best supporting actor nomination for "The Hustler." He didn't win.

His Oscar was accepted by Frank McCarthy, producer of "Patton." He said: "I think the academy has distinguished itself... by recognizing a fine performance by a great actor."

Helen Hayes and John Mills, both veterans of stage and films, were hailed for the best supporting performances.

Miss Hayes, who won a best actress Oscar 40 years ago for "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," was cited for her role as the busybody stowaway in "Airport." Her award was accepted by Rosalind Russell. Miss Hayes was in Washington, D.C., preparing for a Catholic University production of "Long Day's Journey Into Night."

Mills, father of actresses Hayley and Juliet Mills, won his award by not speaking a word in "Ryan's Daughter," with distorted face and halting walk, he played the village mute in the tale of rural 1916 Ireland.

"I was speechless for a year in Ireland, and I am speechless at this moment," the British actor remarked.

Gregory Peck presented Frank Sinatra with the Jean Hersholt Humanitarian Award, which Peck previously had won. Sinatra was cited for many charitable acts, some secret, some public.

Director John Huston presented a special Oscar to actor Orson Welles for his service to the film arts, beginning with his classic "Citizen Kane."

Red Chinese Troops Applaud Ping-Pongers

By JOHN RODERICK

Shanghai (P) — China's army, often described as ready to throw the American aggressor into the sea, gave an enthusiastic welcome Thursday night to the 15 members of the U.S. table tennis team.

Soldiers made up about 80% of the 5,000 spectators who watched an exhibition match between U.S. and Chinese teams. They clapped vigorously when the Americans appeared.

The Americans got a warm welcome when they arrived in China's largest city from Peking and a meeting with Premier Chou En-lai, who said he expected more Americans would visit China soon.

A Chinese sports official said he was "very glad you have come to Shanghai" and the visit was "a sign of friendship which we hope extends to all the American people."

The team played its second goodwill match in the drafty Shanghai Chiang Wan Gym.

The U.S. players were Tim Boggan of Merrick, N.Y., Dick Miles of New York City and George Buben of Detroit. They hammed it up part of the time. All are in their 40s.

All of them showed flashes of the form that made them top players in their day — Miles was 10 times national champion — and when they did the applause rolled down from the men in blue.

Of the three only Miles won, 23-21, but win or lose it didn't seem to matter. The crowd was prepared to smile or laugh to make the Americans feel wanted.

Three of the team, Jack Howard, John Tannehill and George Braithwaite, came down sick in Peking but recovered enough to play Thursday night.

Tannehill, ranked No. 2 in the United States, took his opponent, after a stiff struggle but, Howard, the team coach, was beaten.

Chamber Is Asked To Assist Veterans

Omaha (UPI)—William C. Woodward, president of the National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB) asked the full support of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce Thursday in a national effort to provide jobs for returning veterans.

Woodward told the chamber at a noon public affairs luncheon that of about one million men returning to civilian life this year, more than one-fifth will be returning "without any skills or training that would lead directly into meaningful civilian employment."

Woodward said the veterans, who qualify for the JOBS (job opportunities in the business sector) program sponsored by the NAB "will receive preference for all openings referred to the employment service by companies participating" in the program.

"I'm sure there's no need for me to recite here the dangers and hardships many of these men have undergone," he said. "They deserve our help."

Woodward said the Omaha NAB jobs program, in which almost 75% of the persons going through the program have stayed at their jobs, "has one of the highest retention rates in the nation."

He said, "this shows the serious work all of you who have hired under the program have put into making it a success."

Woodward also said special attention should be given this year to the NAB programs to help disadvantaged youth.

He said one program which will probably be expanded is the youth motivation task force, which organizes junior high and high school visits by persons having backgrounds similar to students in schools they visit, but are now "making it" in the business world.

The NAB president said although the organization has received some criticism on its work, the jobs program has produced more than 620,000 jobs for disadvantaged people since its inception in 1968.

Full Cooperation Requested

In an open letter to Nebraska employers, Robert E. Manifold, veterans employment representative for Nebraska, has called for full cooperation in Nebraska with President Nixon's recently announced "Jobs For Veterans" campaign.

Manifold said there are more than 27,000 Vietnam veterans in Nebraska and they are returning to the state at the rate of more than 300 a month.

Manifold said the state employment service "has the expertise and trained personnel to assist these veterans in their job finding efforts."

"But," he said, "without a sufficient number of jobs and training opportunities these assets and facilities are nullified."

He said, "It is only from the cooperation of interested employers that the job openings and training opportunities can become available."

Lincolnite To Picket LT&T

A 28-year-old Lincoln man said Thursday he plans to picket the Lincoln Telegraph and Telephone Co. building in downtown Lincoln early Friday to protest his dismissal from a security position.

Ron Kurtenbach said he would stage the protest because his employers told him he was being dismissed in part due to a sit-in he conducted earlier this year in a University of Nebraska building.

Kurtenbach, an NU graduate student, was arrested and later convicted for refusing to leave the NU library. He was protesting a number of personnel decisions by the Board of Regents.

He also said he was being relieved from his part-time security job because he had suggested higher pay for operators.

Kurtenbach told The Star that all guards were to be dismissed this month due to a changeover in guard operations to a hired outside company. But he said he was unfairly singled out by being suspended for "what I said."

No Verdict Yet In Murder Trial

Omaha (AP) — A nine-woman, three-man District Court jury retired Thursday for the second straight night without reaching a verdict, in the trial of two black men charged with murdering a white Omaha policeman last August.

The jury received the case Wednesday afternoon and deliberated until 11 p.m. before retiring. They resumed deliberations Thursday morning, and deliberated until 8 p.m.

District Judge Donald J. Hamilton said Thursday night the jury would probably start again Friday around nine in the morning, though some jurors had indicated they would prefer to begin earlier.

Patrol Reveals Victim's Identity

Grand Island (UPI) — The State Patrol and Hall County Attorney's office Thursday identified the victim of a truck-train crash on the outskirts of the city April 9 as Patrick Henry Lord, 36, of Kenosha, Wis.

Lord was killed in the crash, which injured the truck driver, Henry F. Viek of Humphrey.

Authorities speculated Lord was a hitchhiker.

The State Patrol said Lord had some identification with him at the time of the crash, but law enforcement officers at Kenosha were contacted to obtain copies of fingerprints.

Brothers Tell Nixon Nebraska No. 1

Washington (AP) — Two twin brothers from Nebraska selected as winners of the President's trophy as handicapped workers of the year, met President Nixon Thursday and took advantage of the occasion to publicize their state's "Nebraska First" campaign.

Richard and Robert Santin, 31, of Fullerton, Neb., were introduced to the President in his office.

The brothers, who run a two-way radio system business from their home although they are permanently confined to wheelchairs because of muscular dystrophy from birth, earlier had been awarded the President's trophy at the annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

After greetings and some small talk, Richard Santin listed for the President a string of Nebraska firsts, including a claim that Nebraska was first in support of the President's election in 1968 and gave the President a small "Nebraska First" pin for his lapel.

"Well, you've got it all," Nixon commented, "including you two."

Also attending the meeting were the Santin brothers' father, Robert Santin Sr., their sister, Marilyn. Sens. Roman L. Hruska and Carl T. Curtis, Nebraska Republicans, and Miss Jesse Kreidler, the superintendent of schools who was instrumental in their education.

Miss Kreidler arranged for a two-way radio system between the boys' school and their home so that they could participate in classes.

"This is my happiest day," Miss Kreidler said. "I never imagined any of my students would be introduced to the President."

Air Force Veteran Relates Horrors Of Being A POW

Grand Island (AP) — An 18-year Air Force veteran, who was shot down and rescued while flying over North Vietnam, Thursday told a story of treachery, lying and murder on the part of the captors of U.S. servicemen.

Maj. David B. Coon, 39, of Papillion, who is stationed at Offutt Air Force Base, told the story before the 75th annual state convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs. The three-day convention ended here Thursday.

Among the more than 300 persons in attendance, Coon said, was Mrs. Hermine Mehrer of Omaha, whose son, Gustav, has been a POW for nearly three years.

"She has another son who has had two tours of duty in Southeast Asia. She has a great deal of suffering," Coon said.

Coon told of an American prisoner bolted into stocks such as those of the Salem witch hunt days.

"He remained in that position for 29 days," said Coon, a former F-105 pilot and holder of the Purple Heart.

About 1,600 men currently are being held as POWs, the major said, and only nine have been released.

"Some of the men have been murdered in North Vietnamese prison camps. They have been given marginal food, publicly paraded and humiliated and tortured."

"One of the nine who was released spent 26 months in solitary confinement. These nine were supposedly in good condition. Joe Carpenter, who now weighs 170 pounds, weighed 130 when he was released," Coon said.

He said Col. Nooris Overly, who had been laced in stocks for 29 days, weighed 115 lbs. when he was released from the device.

"At Hanoi, they considered him in such excellent health that they put him in care of a prisoner who was about to die," Coon said.

The major said medical treatment of American POWs is almost nonexistent.

"Physical torture is something we can stand as men . . . it's the mental torture that bothers you . . . each morning about 5 a.m. the men hear radio broadcasts from Hanoi Hannah. And then hear about the riots in America, the political figures who are stirring up a fuss, but they don't hear of the 98% of the good that's going on in the U.S.," he said.

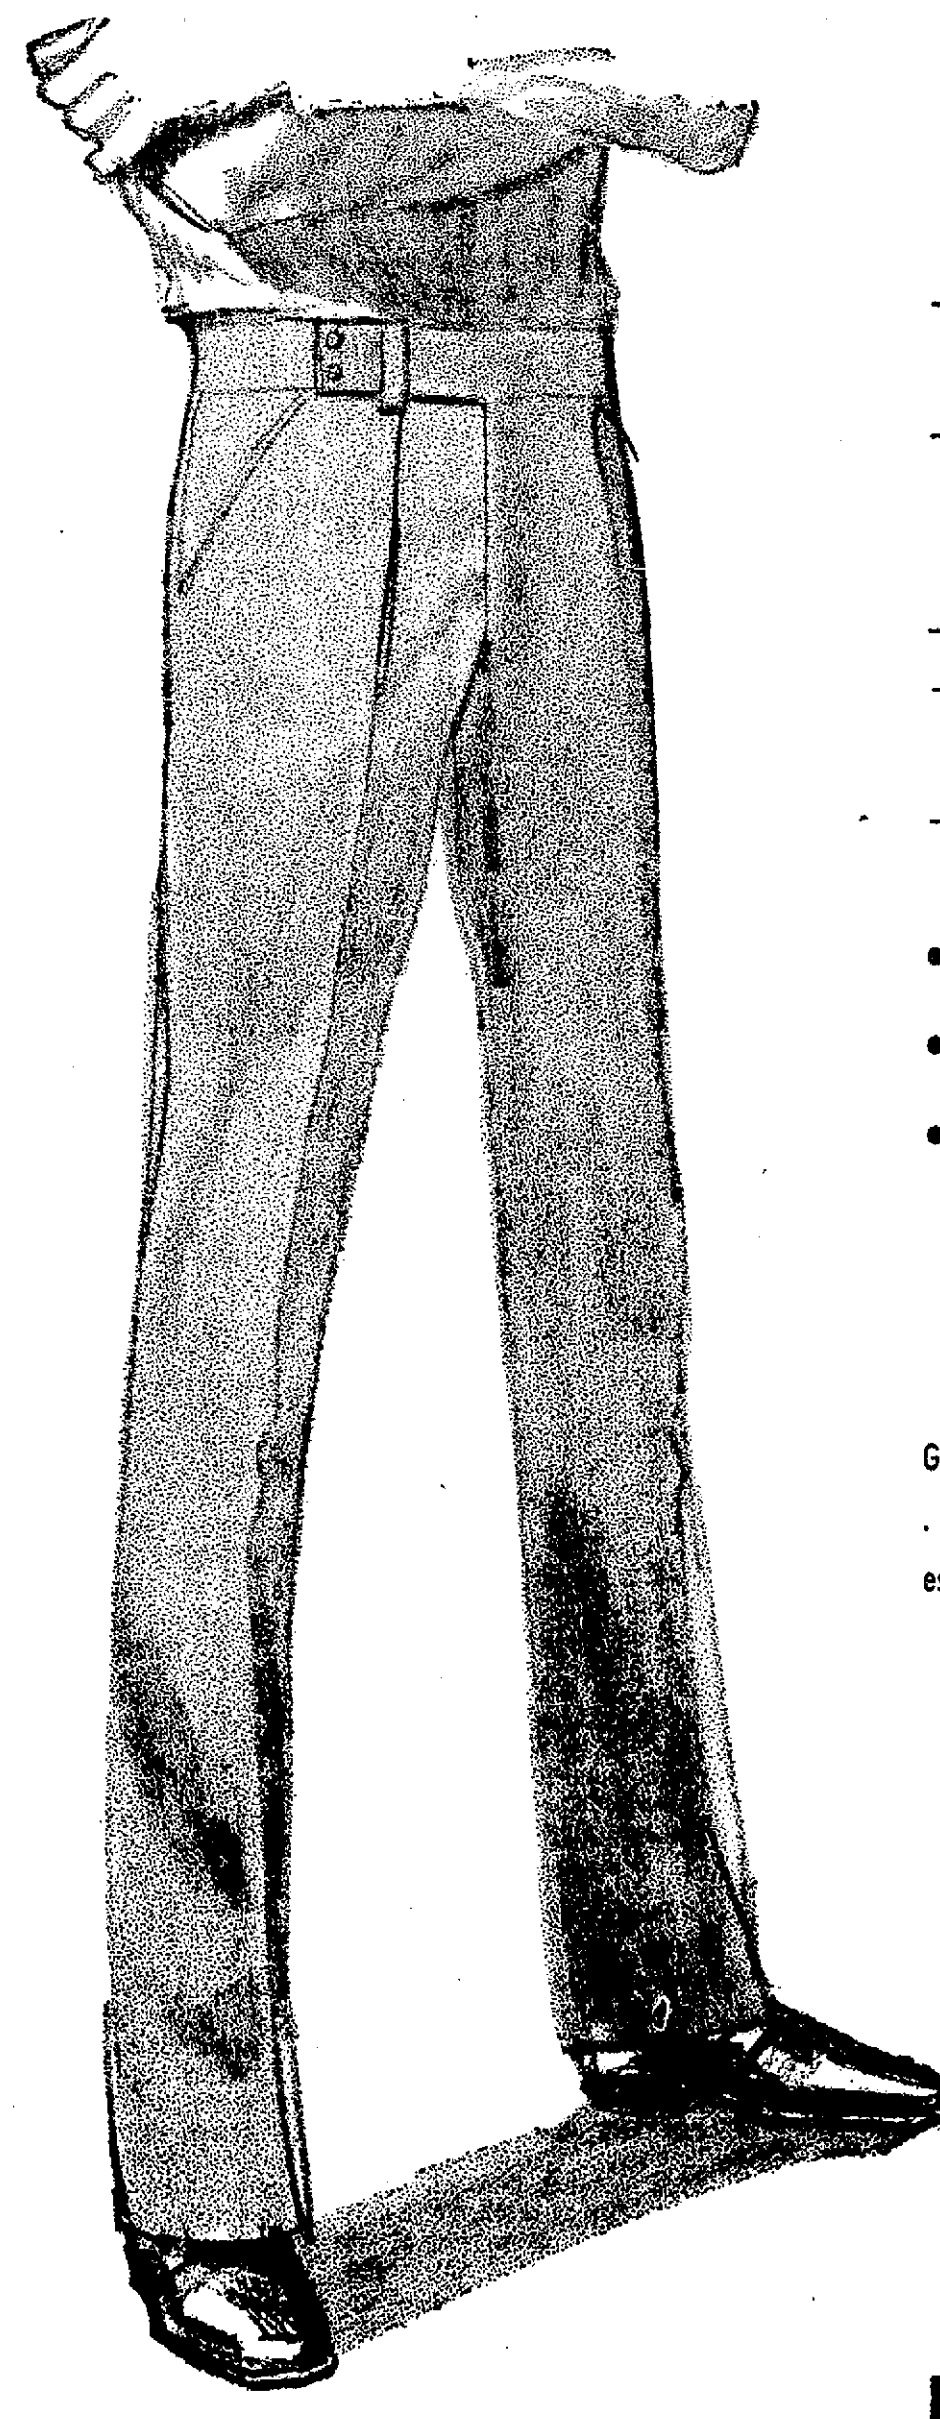

"Why not allow the Red Cross into these camps North Vietnam must be hiding something. They must be lying. Some of these prisoners must be dead."

"Worse than the torture is the boredom. It's been six years of imprisonment for some of these men."

"I'm sure these men do know that we care. The name of the game is publicity. Let the people know . . . as we watch other nations so are we watched. Foreign nations are concerned about what we think."

IN PERSPECTIVE

By MARQUIS CHILDS

(Note: William O. Dobler, The Star's editor, is in Washington this week, attending meetings of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. Today's column is by news analyst Marquis Childs.

WASHINGTON—The evidence continues to pile up that an overwhelming majority of Americans support the varied moves to end U.S. participation in the war in Vietnam. Quibbling over dates to one side, they simply want to stop the bombing and the killing.

Rep. Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey, Jr. sent a questionnaire to the voters in his district in California that drew a response that surprised even him. His district in suburbia south of San Francisco is a decidedly mixed one, including many of the affluent together with middle-class families. And the questionnaire went out after McCloskey stirred a storm in his speech charging that President Nixon had exceeded his constitutional powers and calling for a national debate on whether or not he should be impeached.

The first of four questions was: "Should Congress vote to cut off funding for the war in Vietnam and require withdrawal of all American troops by December 31, 1971?" Of more than 50,000 replies, 71.25 per cent said yes and 28.75 per cent said no.

Question No. 2 was: "Should Congress vote to terminate the President's power to bomb Laos and Cambodia effective immediately?" Sixty-seven per cent said yes; 33 per cent, no. On whether to declare war on North Vietnam, the response was an 85 per cent no. Likewise on whether the President should be permitted to conduct the war in Southeast Asia as he alone determines, the tally was 82 per cent no's.

McCloskey is currently in Vietnam, where he went to try to get the facts about civilian casualties from mass bombing in Indochina. Paying his own way, he is conducting his investigation during the Easter recess of Congress without relying on the military and embassy officials who take most congressmen in tow. How much he can learn in so short a time is another matter.

This reporter, recently in California, observed a familiar phenomenon in the overflowing, somewhat eccentric state. Gov. Ronald Reagan and the California Republican Assembly have been busy reading McCloskey out of the party and making him the whipping boy for all the ills of both the Reagan and Nixon administrations.

After a vicious smear directed at Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, an able senator in the tradition of Hiram Johnson and Earl Warren, Reagan and the party backed Max Rafferty, the flamboyant right-winger, then state superintendent of public instruction, in the 1968 primary. Rafferty defeated Kuchel, but in the election, a Democrat, Alan Cranston, won with the votes of independents and moderate Republicans as well as Democrats. Cranston is proving to be a hard-working senator concerned with California's multiplicity of problems.

Last fall Reagan held out for Senator George Murphy for re-election. Age and infirmities were a handicap for the former song-and-dance man and he was defeated by John V. Tunney. A Republican moderate serving in the Nixon administration, Robert H. Finch, was reported eager to return to make the race.

The word in California today is that Reagan, who renounced a third term as governor, will run against Cranston for the Senate in 1974. He will back his lieutenant governor, Ed Reinecke, for governor. This would seem to shut out Finch again.

Another familiar phenomenon is in evidence in California. That is the Republican difficulty in finding able candidates to run for office. In McCloskey's district, the effort is said to be on to ready Shirley Temple Black to run again. McCloskey defeated the former child star in the 1967 primary.

In San Francisco, party leaders are scurrying about, thus far with little success, for someone to run against Mayor Joseph L. Alioto in the fall.

From the perspective of both ideology and organization, the Nixon party is in trouble. If the wheel of fortune is to turn, the turn must come soon—with 1972 just ahead.

Congressmen Enjoy Easter-Time Junket

WASHINGTON—Six enthusiastic members, who usually can't be dragged to the regular work sessions of the House Territorial Affairs Subcommittee, showed up for a 10-day Easter junket to the Virgin Islands. Some even brought along their wives.

The official purpose of the trip was to attend conferences with island officials. But ample time was allowed for siestas on the balmy isles' sparkling beaches or in front of rum coolers.

The manifest for the flight included Chairman Phil Burton of Calif., Tom Foley of Wash., Bob Stephens of Ga., Teno Roncalio of Wyo., and, for part of the trip, Joe Vigorito of Pa., all Democrats. One lone Republican, Manuel Lujan of N. M., make the trip.

To make sure that work was kept to a minimum for the congressmen, they took along hard-working Bill Thomas, a committee consultant. He will write a report so the subcommittee can offer the taxpayers some justification for Eastering on the isles at their expense.

Selling the Pentagon—Even as the Defense Department lambasts CBS's TV documentary "Selling of the Pentagon," it continues to use the same selling techniques. Latest example: The Air Force has arranged a luxurious two-day trip to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., for some 30 congressional aides to impress upon them what a fine institution it is. It will cost each aide exactly $14.50 for

Bad Day For Two

They were stringing Sen. Ernest Chambers along all the time. Chambers' bill to restrict the use of corporal punishment in the schools was soundly defeated by the Legislature on final reading Wednesday by a vote of 12 to 34. Co-sponsored by Sen. Fern Orme, the bill had received slender margins of support in earlier stages of consideration on the floor.

The chances that the bill would pass eventually were remote at best, but the reversal of votes and the size of the majority that combined to defeat the measure suggest that many senators who sided with Chambers in earlier rounds were never remotely interested in a concept we consider valid. The bill provided for the use of corporal punishment in certain situations to preserve order and discipline and its use with parental consent. What it sought was to do away with punishment as a tool to be used indiscriminately. It's a pity that violence in the classroom received such emphatic endorsement.

But if it was a bad day for Chambers, in a sense it was worse still for Gov. Exon. Sen. Jules Burbach showed he could put it together by gathering 31 votes and initial approval for his personal property tax-exemption bill which would shift about $25 million in annual tax support from property to the sales and income tax levies. Implementation of that bill alone would trigger a one-half per cent hike in the state sales tax and a one per cent income tax boost or a four per cent increase in the income tax alone, which would render meaningless Gov. Exon's pledge to attempt to hold the sales tax rate at 2½ per cent and the income tax at 13% during his first two years. If a proposed massive increase in state financial aid to schools becomes law, the governor's tax limits would be left in shambles.

Sen. Burbach's bill escaped major surgery by amendment, which in no small way is a tribute to his skill on the floor and off, the only real change from the original package being that it will take seven years instead of three to reach the 90% exemption level. The question is whether Burbach can hold his votes—among them, Lincoln-area Sens. Jerome Warner and William Swanson—over the long haul to override a certain gubernatorial veto. We hope enough senators think this matter over again and that a veto is sustained. Not because we are particularly enamored with the governor's campaign pledge on tax rates, but because the exemption bill again, is going too far too fast and to implement it would be to break faith with a substantial number of voters.

Taking It On Faith

In comparison with the FBI, which has been the subject lately of the most intense criticism by the public at large and Congress since its founding, the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has been burdened by relatively little public questioning or attack.

At issue in the case of the FBI is a growing belief in the declining competence of its powerful director and allegations that agents have overstepped constitutional bounds in the surveillance and harassment of private citizens. By the very nature of its responsibilities and how they are carried out, the CIA has not been nearly as open to such charges.

Still, CIA Director Richard Helms felt it necessary to ease the nation's worries about official secrecy. And in so doing in a speech delivered to a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Helms noted that the public appearance of a nation's intelligence chief is unthinkable in most countries.

JAMES RESTON

Radio, TV Subject To More Government Pressure Than Newspapers In System Of Double Standard

WASHINGTON—The American Society of Newspaper Editors is in Washington again for its annual skull practice, and this year it has some serious questions to discuss, for all news reporters and editors—radio and television even more than newspaper—are under mounting pressure from all branches of the government and from the public as well.

In the last year, the Defense Department has gone beyond the normal regulations on battlefield reporting to censor the news on the war in Laos and limit access to the primary areas of combat.

Reporters and editors in radio and television have had even more difficult problems, for while the newspapers usually have the protection of the freedom of the press amendment to the Constitution in the courts, the networks and their affiliated stations are licensed by a government which has the power to impose its notion of "fair reporting" by threatening to withdraw a station's license.

The threats, of course, are always oblique. Thus in recent weeks, Vice President Agnew has not only been running a biased, money-saving organization which does not interfere in domestic politics and has no police, subpoena or law-enforcement functions. Regrettably, he said, the nation will have to take his word for it. "The nation must to a degree take it on faith that we, too, are honorable men devoted to her service."

Helms further said that he has no easy answer to the objections raised by those who consider intelligence work to be incompatible with democratic principles. There is no easy answer. For as foreign as undercover work is to democracy in theory, it is unquestionably needed in these times to preserve our democratic institution. People tend to reject things they don't understand or know about. But to reject the idea of secrecy in areas so relevant to our national security would be folly.

campaign against the Columbia Broadcasting System's program on the Defense Department's propaganda apparatus ("The Selling of the Pentagon") and demanding the right to edit his own copy on the subject over the CBS network, but the investigations subcommittee of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee has subpoenaed CBS to produce all its notes and unused film and disbursements of money on the Pentagon program.

There is, of course, nothing wrong with the vice president's complaining publicly about bias in the press and the radio and television. As he is constantly pointing out, he has his freedom of speech too, and since major newspapers select about 100,000 words a day out of almost two million, it would be remarkable if there were not an argument about whether the selection and front-page presentation were "fair."

The difference is that newspaper editors can tell the complaining vice president or the members of the House investigations committee to go climb the Washington Monument and the radio and TV editors are not quite so free. They are under government license. They use "the people's airwaves" (as if the newspapers didn't use the people's streets and interstate highways), and they operate under different rules.

They must submit to an official "Fairness Doctrine," which is a government and not

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

Church Undergoing Change

NEW YORK—The major religious institutions of America are passing through a period of either "horrendous change" or "wonderful ferment"—depending on how you look at it.

Great masses of youth have elected to become church dropouts, to the alarm of the Establishment and its clergy. But this apparent shrinking of belief in the formalized cathedrals of their parents does not mean that the young have lost faith in religion. Quite the contrary...

"The old concept of the parish church may be vanishing. It may disappear entirely—and for good reason," says the producer of religious TV shows, Pamela Hott. "The parish was originally conceived in days when people did everything in church. There was nowhere else to go, so to church everyone went for enlightenment, entertainment, social contact. But now we're a mobile society, and we don't need the old parish concept."

"This doesn't mean that faith, that seeking for spiritual truth, is disappearing. For the past 15 years, there's been a growing movement toward religious services in the home. There are experimental churches, where comparative religions are studied. Some of the old rituals are being abandoned, because the young find them unnecessary and cumbersome—and the young may be way ahead of the game in wanting to find whole new expressions of truth and love for society."

"Structures that took centuries to build are changing quickly now—but religion is not dying. People are just seeking religion by regrouping along different lines."

In other words, though it is inconvenient and uncomfortable to millions of adult worshippers, the trend is not threatening. The church will not die. But it will have to be different.

Along with the religious ferment in America has come an impression that the era of missions and missionaries is on its way out of existence. Two missionaries, Dr. Donald A. McGavran and Ralph Winter, visited New York this week to dispel that notion.

"The fact of the matter is that the Christian faith is spreading in a phenomenal fashion around the world," said Dr. McGavran. "Very few people are aware, for instance, that today 28% of black Africans are Christians—this in spite of the fact that in North Africa, people are ruthlessly ostracized for converting to our faith."

Winter added that in Indonesia, over the past seven years, "more than 100,000 Moslems converted to Christianity."

Why the upswing in mission-power while established church-power appears to be declining?

McGavran, dean of a thriving graduate school for missionaries in Pasadena (World Mission of Fuller Theological Seminary), credits the surge to new attitudes and techniques. Anthropology, for example, is the dominant discipline at his school, which attracts more missionaries for graduate study than any other seminary in the U.S.

"The old concept of the missionary going out all by himself to convert the heathen doesn't hold true any more. Today, missionaries operate in close collaboration with existing churches overseas. Many of them are interdenominational, much more enlightened about the culture of the people they are working for and with than missionaries of earlier times. And they go out with a different attitude; because they are knowledgeable about the people, they want not merely to enlighten those people, but to be enlightened by them.

Thus, in the mission churches, local converts do most of the "preaching." The work of the missionary largely is behind the scenes: teaching, building, doctoring, helping.

"And our aim, always, is to reorder the lives of those people in the ways of Christ—without tearing the fabric of their own culture." Unless, of course, the "fabric of their own culture" is evil or savage; missionaries still discourage such indecate actions as head-hunting. However, if a country practices (for example) polygamy, missions do not interfere and insist on forcing upon them the western social custom of monogamy.

"We are backers of the indigenous expression of the Christian faith," says McGavran, who claims that the book and movie, "Hawaii," gave a wrong impression of his calling. "The native religion in Hawaii had collapsed 40 years before the missionaries came to the islands," he insists. "The whalers had destroyed the Hawaiians' beliefs and had left them corrupted. Christianity stepped into the vacuum."

The two missionaries believe that the young people of America will become increasingly involved in the mission movement because "while institutions get crusty, rusty and creaky at the joints, God somehow works beyond them. And these young people believe in God, and love, and helping people. And that is what missions are all about..."

Call To Folly

Lincoln, Neb.

All of us recognize the very significant service that has been provided to all Nebraskans through the Nebraska Educational Television network. We hope to see this service continue and grow.

It is our understanding that Senator Terry Carpenter will be introducing legislation this week which is designed to wrest the new ETV building away from the ETC Commission to have it converted to a new law college.

This ETC building is already 70 per cent completed! A conversion to a law college at this late date would incur fantastic non-recoverable cost to our state: elaborate wiring systems, expensive sound-lock systems, special construction of walls and roofs, etc. Surely this cannot go unnoticed by us taxpayers.

Such a move could not be construed as sound leadership or responsible administration of state monies. It reflects a total disregard for the wholesale long-term planning of prior years and a hasty ill conceived and unbalanced concern for the needs of a new law college.

We sincerely hope that every constituent of the Nebraska voting public will note the decision of the senators on this call to folly.

It is utterly impossible for us to understand how Senator Carpenter's legislation could be in the interest of the state's expanding educational needs or the best distribution of our tax money.

Dusty Trail

Lincoln, Neb.

My family and I certainly wish to thank the city of Lincoln for their splendid gift to us. By this, I refer to the almost unbearable dust bath they subject us to daily and nightly thanks to the unpaved trail to our fine new Easterday Recreation Center.

Two years ago we were living on a farm five miles east of Lincoln and decided to move from our modest old farm home to a rather nice home in northeast Lincoln. One of the factors helping us arrive at this decision was the fact that our then five-year-old son was plagued with bronchial asthma. Dust being one of the primary causative factors in his ailment, it seemed to be the one thing we should be able to minimize by departing from the ever-present dust and pollens of a farm.

The first summer after we moved, he was much better and then, behold, the city favors us with this fine center and then supplies access to it via a rutty, dusty trail which would cause the rural road maintenance crews of Lancaster County to be ashamed beyond endurance to have to claim it as one of their projects.

Now, as an old broke farmer, I do not claim to be intelligent but I have never been and pray that I never will be party to such a miserably incompetent piece of planning as building a million-dollar facility and supplying a rut for entrance to it.

'Yes' On Buses

Lincoln, Neb.

I intend to vote for the bus bond issue on May 4 because in the proposed improvements in equipment and service are implemented. I expect to become a regular rider.

I can ride the bus downtown to work and back for about the same amount I now spend for parking alone, not to mention cost of driving and maintaining a car.

If I do need to drive my car occasionally, I will park it on the perimeter of the downtown area and take the Mini-Line the rest of the way. I am glad to see that the Mini-Line will be a part of the system.

I hope more people will consider this, to support an improved bus system and to relieve traffic and parking congestion downtown.

Reduce Terry

Lincoln, Neb.

I wish someone could some way find a sensible course for the immediate reduction of Terry Carpenter.

The University is forced to accept too much abuse as it is—but for Terry to propose the destruction of the BEST-TV one can find these days!

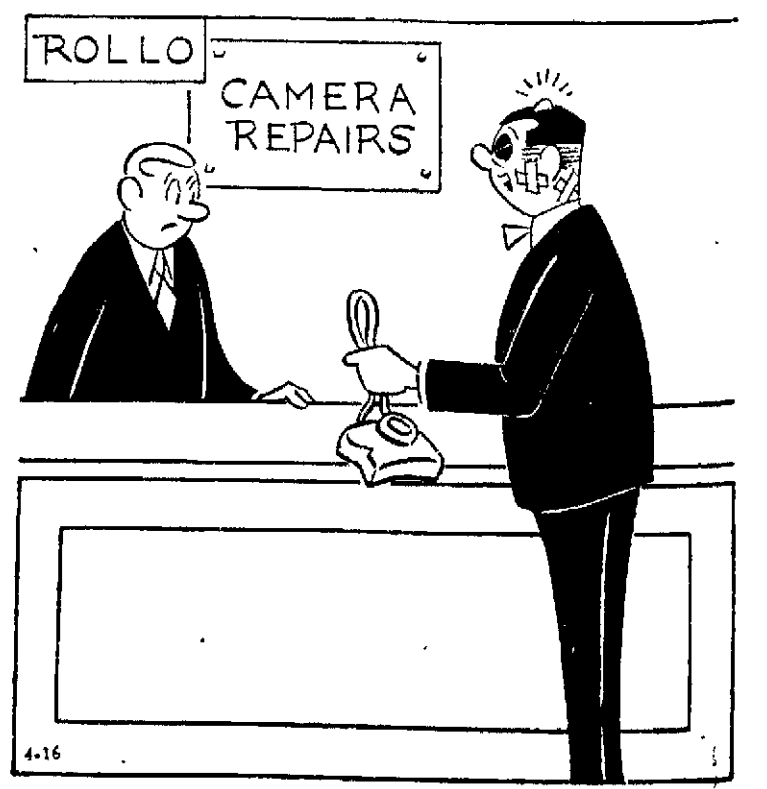

How can his constituents put up with his fantastic headline hunting? Surely, surely some of them see the values he would destroy.

I was on the committee which years ago set aside Channel 12 for education.

Bill To Change School Aid Distribution Dates Advances

The Legislature's Budget Committee Thursday advanced for floor consideration an amended bill which provides for three dates for distribution of state aid to education funds.

As amended, LB426 calls for distribution of approximately one-half of the total state aid funds on Dec. 1 each year, with the other half to be divided into March 1 and May 1 payments.

State aid payments now go to the schools on Dec. 1 and April 1. The change will apparently help both the schools and the state retain sufficient amounts of monies in their general funds to head off fiscal difficulties related to tax collections and disbursement.

The state's schools now receive $35 million annually in state aid, although pending legislation would hike that to about $89 million.

If approved by the full Unicameral, LB426 would go into effect during the 1971-72 fiscal year and bring a one-time only "windfall" of perhaps $6 million to $8 million to the schools.

The bill was sponsored by Sen. Wayne Ziebarth and Richard Marvel, chairman of the committee. It was advanced without dissent.

In other action during a five-hour executive session, an attempt to advance LB712 to the floor was stalled when it failed to garner more than four votes in the nine-member group.

A motion to kill the bill also failed with only three votes.

The measure would provide for loans to NU medical students which could be written off if the students practiced in Nebraska communities after graduation.

The committee approved, at the request of Gov. J. James Exon, a proposal to relocate the state comprehensive health planning agency in the Department of Administrative Services and approved a general fund appropriation of $6,000 for the mostly federally funded effort.

The agency had been in the state office of planning and programming, operations of which have also been moved into DAS.

Also adopted was a proposal to introduce a bill changing the state personnel office into a code agency responsible to the governor.

A plan to reorganize the State Department of Economic Development was also approved, although the committee turned back a proposal to move tourism functions from the department back into the Game and Parks Department.

The committee had previously okayed the switch.

Under the reorganization, the programs of administration and informational research will be combined, as will tourism industrial development and community development.

The "Keep Nebraska Beautiful" program will be retained as a single program in the economic development unit.

Among a host of other actions, the committee also approved an expenditure of $15,000 to finance the upcoming meeting of the Midwest Governors Conference to be held in South Sioux City.

Congressional Districts Okay Now, Syas Says

Sen. George Syas of Omaha Thursday said there is no need for the 1971 Legislature to make any changes in congressional district apportionment to comply with the 1970 census.

"It's unnecessary," he said. "You can't get any closer to the one-man, one-vote principle than we already are."

A Legislative Council staff study of census figures turned up these population totals for the three congressional districts as now drawn:

First, 493,415.
Second, 498,354.
Third, 491,722.

The disparity in population among the districts is a mere 1.34%, Syas said.

"You're just not going to get any closer than that," he noted.

"So that's one apportionment problem out of the way."

Nebraska's congressional districts were drawn in 1968 and were based on University of Nebraska estimates of 1966 population rather than 1960 census figures, Syas noted.

"The 1970 figures show the university was pretty close," he said.

Syas presented the skeletal form of a legislative reapportionment bill to the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee earlier Thursday.

The details will be filled in after senators agree on proposed changes, he noted.

Omaha's 12-member delegation and Sen. Orval Keyes of Papillion will huddle Friday noon to attempt to agree on proposed new districts for Douglas and Sarpy Counties.

Two plans are now under consideration, Syas said.

One would extend South Omaha districts into Sarpy County, and the other would move west into Sarpy.

Sarpy County will be entitled to two senators in the reapportioned Legislature.

Syas said the final legislative apportionment plan should aim for no greater population disparity among districts than population disparity among districts than 1960 3%.

'War Crimes A Way Of Life In Vietnam'

... Three West Pointers Resigned

Chicago (P) — Three West Point graduates said Wednesday the emphasis on body counts by high U.S. military officers has resulted in a "total disregard of Vietnamese lives."

"War crimes are a way of life in Vietnam," they said at a news conference.

The three, who resigned their commissions as captains after serving in Vietnam, said that Lt. Gen. Julian Ewell should be relieved as chief military adviser to the Paris peace talks because "he made his reputation in Vietnam on the body count."

No 2 In Class

Ronald Bartek 27, who was graduated as second man in his West Point class of 1966, said he attended in 1969 a briefing by Ewell who was then commanding general of the 9th Infantry Division.

"He spent 30 minutes giving his success formula," Bartek said. "His formula was, 'We've got to kill more of these bastards to be successful.'"

Robert Johnson, 27, a 1965 West Point graduate, and coordinator of the Citizens Commission of Inquiry into U.S. Crimes in Indochina, said, "We are demanding the immediate removal of Lt. Gen. Ewell ... any man who refers to people as 'slopes, slants, dinks and gooks' is not capable of serving in Paris."

Greg Heyward, a 1964 West Pointer now attending graduate school at Georgetown University, said, "Ewell made his reputation on the body count."

General's Aide

Heyward, who served as a platoon and company commander, was also an aide to Maj. Gen. Ellis Williamson of the 25th Infantry Division. He declared that Williamson violated the Rules of Land Warfare by "forcing hundreds of Vietnamese to move from their villages to detention areas."

Williamson viewed these people as "a thorn in his side," Heyward said.

Heyward said he told his battalion commander of an artillery attack that killed 10 women and children in a village "where not a single shot was fired. There was a systematic coverup of the whole thing," he said.

We constantly lived with a total disregard for Vietnamese lives," Heyward added.

Torture Policy

The men said they witnessed torture of civilians suspected of being Viet Cong, and Johnson said, "That's part of the policy."

Heyward said, "When you add together the constant reference to Vietnamese as 'slopes and gooks' with the pressure put on battalion commanders to build up the body count, and the torture, you see how we lived with a disregard for Vietnamese lives."

The men were asked why they delayed revealing their feelings until they resigned from the Army.

Heyward said, "Soldiers are too busy at survival to realize it's a peoples' war there. You don't have time to philosophize until you get away."

Heyward said his training at West Point did not prepare him for war.

2 Primary Write-In Candidates Win Ballot Spots

The names of Dale LeBaron and Ken Johnson will appear on the May 4 general election ballot in the School Board race for a full term.

Both are primary election write-in candidates who had their names drawn Thursday to fill the two open nomination spots on the ballot.

The drawing of names was required because four persons, who had their names written onto a ballot in the primary election, indicated interest in being candidates.

A total of 38 names were written on ballots four of the names being for persons having the same name, each receiving one vote.

Election Commissioner Dean Petersen said each write-in candidate was sent a letter asking whether he or she was interested in being a candidate and to be at his office Thursday morning if interested.

The other two write-ins who showed up, but whose names were not drawn, are Michael Robbins and Paul P. Olson.

No write-in candidates showed interest in the Airport Authority race, where only the incumbent Fred Eiche is seeking office.

Petersen said that Lincolinites who are not registered for the general election have until April 23 to register.

Persons may register at the County-City Building from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. through next Wednesday, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and until 6 p.m. on April 23.

A registration station again will be set up at the Gateway Auditorium lobby Saturday from 1-4 p.m.

The station will also be open there from 7-9 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. next Friday.

Those using absentee ballots may start voting Tuesday and have until noon May 1 to cast ballots in person. Residents temporarily out of the county must mail their absentee ballots no later than midnight May 3.

Voters using a disabled ballot may pick it up starting April 26 and must do so by 4 p.m. May 3. The mail deadline for disabled ballots is midnight May 3.

'Frog Strangler' Needed; 'Methodist Sprinkler' Falls

Lubbock, Tex. (UPI) — Farmers and ranchers wanted a "frog strangler" Thursday but all they got was a "Methodist sprinkle."

It rained across the fields and farms of west Texas but the moisture wasn't enough to end a crippling seven-month drought.

"We need a good soaker, then several showers," said Jim Humphreys, manager of the 163,000-acre Pitchfork Ranch.

"Believe me, I mean no slur at anyone's church," said Apol Thomas, foreman of Spade Farms, Inc., outside Hurlwood, Tex. "But what we need is a frog strangler and all we've got so far is a Methodist sprinkle."

GROUNDBREAKING HELD FOR PLAYHOUSE

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Lincoln Community Playhouse building at 56th and Normal Sts. were held Thursday. Participating in the groundbreaking were, from left, John Wilson, playhouse director;

Mrs. and Mr. Oliver Joy, who donated the land for the building; Dick Knaub, playhouse president, and Sam Davidson, chairman of the building fund campaign. (Star Photo.)

No Plan To Close Westview Under Consideration—Colin

Plans to close Westview are not under consideration by the Lancaster County Commissioners at the present time, according to Commissioner Robert Colin.

Colin said that he and the other two board members agree that there is a need for this type of home in Lancaster County and that there are no plans to close it.

Colin said he had received numerous letters and phone calls from various church groups and citizens expressing concern regarding a report that Westview should be closed.

"I have informed these people I am opposed to closing Westview and I would do everything possible to see that Westview continues to operate as a care center," Colin said.

He said he did think it might be feasible to transfer any bed patients at Westview to Lancaster Manor.

At a Tuesday meeting of the Lancaster County Welfare board a report on the various care classifications of Westview resident revealed only two of the 35 as being bed patients.

SCLC Calls For Total Withdrawal

Detroit (AP) — The Southern Christian Leadership Conference called for the total withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam and freedom for "political prisoners."

The SCLC's program embracing non-violent civil disobedience was announced by the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, who succeeded the late Dr. Martin Luther King as head of the organization.

Abernathy was in Detroit for a meeting of the SCLC's 54-member board of directors.

NDA Plans To Plant Trees In New J.P. Mahoney Park

By LIANE WETTERER
Star Staff Writer

The Northeast Development Association (NDA), made up of northeast Lincoln residents, decided Thursday to go ahead with a tree planting project April 24—the "first big step" in the development of the J.P. Mahoney Park in northeast Lincoln.

State Sen. Wally Barnett, acting as chairman for the organizational meeting, said he would try to "lay an outline of what this idea is and see if you want to buy it."

The proposed plan currently includes 227 acres between 73rd and 84th streets, bordered by Adams street on the south and railroad tracks on the north.

Barnett said the Mahoney Park would eventually grow to be the northeast Lincoln equivalent of Pioneer's Park. It would house an 18-hole golf course as well as recreational and residential facilities.

Financing of the tree-planting project will be by the fiscal 1970-71 City Council budget, in the amount of $6,000, he said.

Barnett noted that although the Parks and Recreation Department's request for fiscal 1972 "doesn't include an appropriation for the Mahoney Park," this didn't mean that none will be budgeted.

"The city government can get federal and state funds for the development of this park," former Lincoln City Councilman Carroll Thompson asserted.

But they've let down on the job, though not in intention.

Following a recommendation by Matt Kipper, a committee of six volunteered to meet with the mayor to discuss the 1972 parks budget... "to find out where the money is going and why."

Committee members are Kipper, Wayne Hart, Leona Shields, Larry Arnold, Alice Studnicka and Neil Sipp.

City Council candidates Nancy Childs and Bob Sikyta volunteered to serve on the committee but later resigned to avoid political overtones.

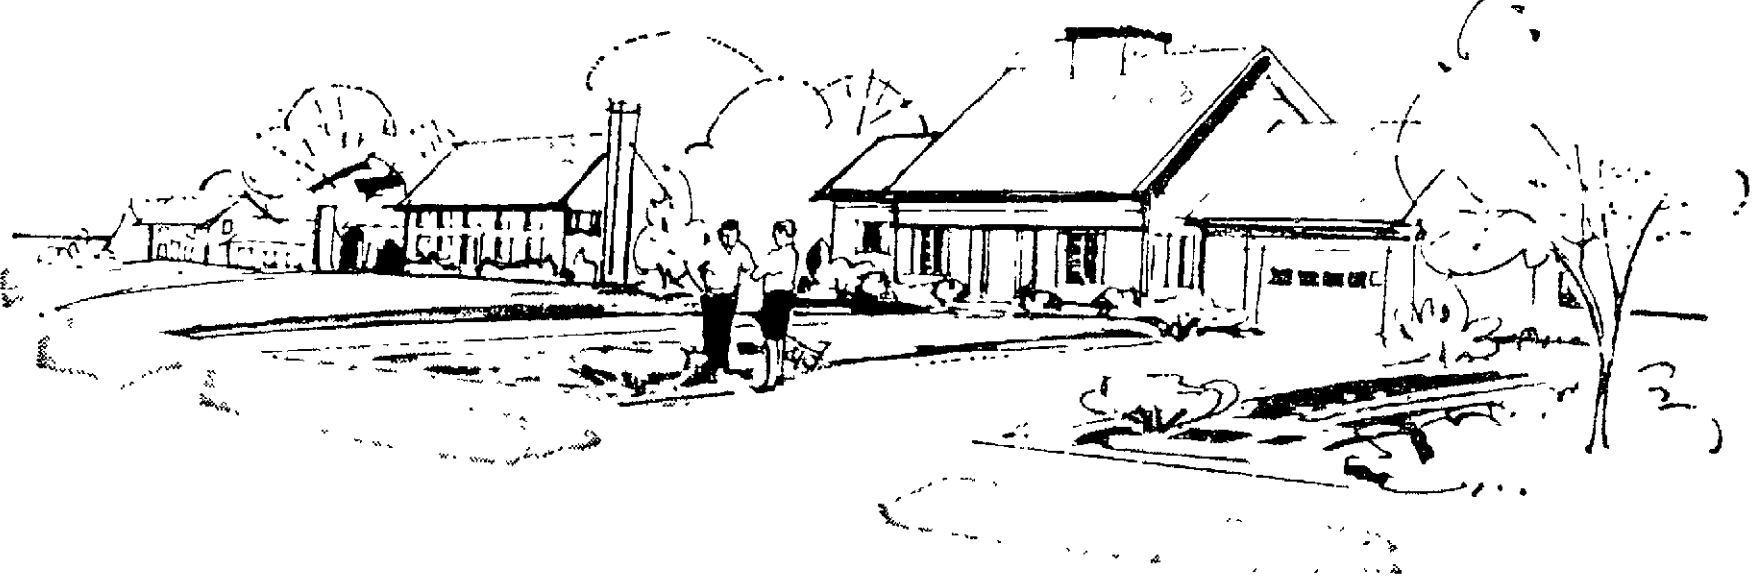

NDA will meet next Wednesday with a representative of the City Parks and Recreation Department at 7:30 p.m. in the Northeast High School cafeteria, to discuss the tree planting operation and further park improvements.

Loerch Quits Vision-17 Post

Roger Loerch has announced he is resigning as president of Vision-17, a Southeast Nebraska economic development organization.

Loerch has told the board of directors he is leaving the state to pursue business interests.

Jack Wolken, first vice-president and mayor of Tecumseh, will serve as acting president.

Good lawns don't just happen.
They are made!

... and here's how:

The key is proper fertilizing.

That's why Scott's TURF BUILDER is America's favorite lawn fertilizer. Turf Builder is made by the exclusive Trionized process which enables it to release its nutrients only as the grass needs them. There's no surge growth to cause extra mowing, and there's no wasteful overfeeding or nutrient loss due to leaching. Just a thicker, greener, sturdier lawn. Spread Turf Builder on your lawn this weekend, and see for yourself.

10,000 sq. ft. bag (44 lbs.) 9.95
15,000 sq. ft. bag (66 lbs.) 13.95

You can upgrade
by "seeding-in."

By far the easiest way to upgrade the kind of grass you have is to seed Scott's WINDSOR right into your present lawn. Windsor is the improved variety of Kentucky bluegrass. It won't transform your old lawn overnight, but given sunlight, moisture and time to develop, Windsor will produce a lasting lawn of rich green, sun-loving grass. It is available as pure Windsor and in blends containing 70% and 35% Windsor.

Windsor 1,000 sq. ft. box (3 lbs.) $5.45
Blend 70 2,500 sq. ft. box (3 lbs.) 9.95
Blend 35 2,500 sq. ft. box (4 lbs.) 8.95

There's still time to prevent ugly crabgrass!

The answer is Scott's HALTS PLUS. Spread it on your lawn right now—before temperatures are regularly in the 80's. It sets up a barrier that prevents crabgrass from showing its ugly head this year. Halts Plus also fertilizes your lawn at the same time. Makes your grass grow thicker, greener, sturdier. All from a single application. So if crabgrass was a problem last year, spread HALTS PLUS now, before it gets a foothold this spring.

Bridegrooms-Elect Fathom Sea Of Matrimony

By LINDA OLIG AND PHYLLIS WOOLLEN
(Part 3 of a series.)

Marriage involves much more than the ceremony itself — there is much planning to be done for the years that lie ahead, as any bridegroom-to-be can tell you.

Here's what our bridegrooms had to say about working wives, parenthood, and so forth:

Q. Do you expect your wife to work and for how long?

MIKE: I don't expect her to work — she wants to work. She is going through college now for a degree so she can teach and that's what she wants to do. It's what she really expects to do after she graduates and not to be at home all the time. She really wants to do it so I go along with her.

DAN: I think that would be too much to ask her to stay home and take care of the apartment. How much can you do in three rooms? I think if she wants to work, then go right ahead. But I am not going to tell her that she has to go out and make $300 a month to support us — it's up to her.

JASON: I don't expect her to work. She did pursue a course of education, got her degree, and she would like to use her education. If she wants to work, it's fine with me as long as it doesn't create a problem.

Q. Would it create problems if your wives were working to put you through school?

DAN: I think that could be a problem if you were just going to school where you're almost in another world, and she is working somewhere in another different world. Then you have to come from these two separate worlds into your own, and there isn't much to talk about. You can't help but think that she would resent the fact that she is working and her money is going to put you through school. That's why I'm glad that we'll both be in school and get done just about the same time.

Q. What about after you have children?

MIKE: It is something that we will have to discuss at that time because right now we can't decide whether we are going to say, "Well once you have children, you're going to have to quit your job," because circumstances might be different then.

Have you thought about child planning?

DAN: Yes. Very much so. We have a lot of friends who are married now, and they're very much worried about having children too soon. Everybody wants to worry about the population and all that, and everybody who gets married has to take this into account, and think, "Well, how many kids do we want to bring into this world? When do we want to bring them in? And so on." I think it helps if the couple has lived together a sufficient number of years so they get to know and enjoy each other before they begin to have children. After the child is here, he is always going to be here. We've talked about waiting as many as five years before we even consider having a child.

MIKE: Yes. We have too. It's a problem. She wants a lot of children and I don't want that many. I don't really care to have children right at the start, because that is a financial burden when you're first getting started.

Delegates To Travel

President of the Lincoln Zonta Club, Mrs. John McArthur; Miss Verna McKenzie, vice president; and Miss Eileen Motz plan to leave Lincoln on Saturday morning, April 17, and head for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where they will attend a two-day Area 4 conference of Zonta Clubs.

Joining the Lincoln delegates will be Zonta members from Sioux City, Council Bluffs, Des Moines, and Cedar Rapids, Iowa; as well as from Omaha.

JASON: We're both convinced of the idea that two children are plenty.

Q. Is that because of the population explosion?

JASON: Yes. People are starting to think about it. We have been stumbling blindly. All of the war babies went to college and now are all looking for a place to work.

(Next week: decision-making and furnishing the home.)

Our Town

INDIRA SINGH

Footlights & Canvas

PHYLLIS WOOLLEN

Good morning:

It has been said that you can overdo even a good thing. Yet, we feel that there is no such thing as talking too much about the current exhibit at the Sheldon Art Gallery — "Objects: USA".

Our pre-publicity material told us that it was a revival of the crafts, that almost all of the 300 exhibits were handmade, and that the exhibit was being sponsored on its tour by the Johnson Wax Company. It is all of that, and more.

Seeing is believing, and that is why we are urging each and everyone of our readers, young and old, art enthusiast or not, to pay a visit to Sheldon before May 4. In fact, if you are like us, you will want to return a second or even third time to make sure that you haven't missed anything.

Objects: USA is probably one of the most 'fun' exhibits that we have yet seen. Almost every exhibit has a story of its own. For instance, there is a winter-summer hammock by Ted Hallman. Ingeniously designed of knotted wool and cotton, the winter side presents a soft bed of long woven strands for warmth, and the summer surface is achieved by simply rotating the hammock.

Oversized hand-carved wood furniture, delicate pillows and wall weavings, a plaster tennis shoe, and unusual jewelry are just a few of the fascinating displays. Special walls have been brought into the Gallery for the exhibit which occupies every square foot of Sheldon.

For all of the talking and raving we can do, one visit to Objects: USA will, we are sure, stimulate your enthusiasm far better. We do hope that you will take advantage of this wonderful fine arts offering in Lincoln.

Please join us.

BUTTERFLIES ARE A COMMON SYMPTOM . . . for many performers. In fact, they say that even the vintage performers experience a bit of nervous tension before the show. Lincoln Symphony Audition Winners, Robert Jenkins and Curtis Kimball, who will give solo performances with the symphony on Tuesday, April 20, are perhaps a bit more anxious than usual for their debut appearances. Mr. Jenkins, who will perform as an oboe soloist, is the son of the 1941 auditions winner, University professor Earl Jenkins. World War II prevented Earl Jenkins from making his appearance, however his son will appear, playing Haydn's Concerto for Oboe. Pianist Curtis Kimball is a many-talented pre-med student. Though his main interest is piano, he also plays French Horn, banjo and guitar, and sings in a University Chorus. This closing symphony performance for the season will be held at the Stuart Theatre.

PERFORMER WITH CREATIVE POWER . . . Organist Herman Berlinski has often been described as such. A native of Germany he was forced to leave during 1933, and since has made his home in this country. Associated with the Washington Hebrew Congregation, he will appear Sunday April 18th in concert at the First Plymouth Congregational Church. The recital will feature some original compositions written by Berlinski who is considered a noted authority on Jewish music. The program will begin at 4 o'clock, and is free and open to the public.

DRAGONS AND THINGS . . . is the title of the Lincoln Community Playhouse Puppeteers family day performance on Sunday, April 18 at the Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha. Sponsored by the Junior League of Omaha and the Joslyn Woman's Association, the puppeteers will bring a carnival of artists and craftsmen, as well as music and dancers. The show is open to the public free of charge from noon to 5 o'clock.

"A DANCER'S ALICE" . . . is a multi-media interpretation of Lewis Carroll's famous fairytale, "Alice In Wonderland." Modern dancers will portray Alice's various adventures. Enlarged graphic slides will serve as background, and imaginative music will accompany the dancers. Our hats are off to Mrs. Robert Grossman, modern dance teacher for her innovative production. Performers will include dance students from the third grade through senior high school. Mrs. Grossman has done research on the author, and many of the sequences are based on Carroll's personal feelings. For instance, he felt children were preoccupied with food, so in "A Dancer's Alice," Alice falls into a forest of oversized vegetables. Showtime is 3 o'clock at the Sheldon Art Gallery Auditorium. Admission is free, but seating is limited.

Sorority Dinner

The members of Nebraska Alpha Chapter of Delta Theta Chi, cultural and philanthropic sorority, will honor Miss Elfriede Muennich at a dinner to be held at the Nebraska Club on Friday evening, April 16. The event is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock.

Miss Muennich is treasurer of Electra Province, and will complete her term of office this October.

CFG Folk Dance Festival

A Folk Dance Festival will be held at Pershing Auditorium on Saturday afternoon, April 17, and the participants will be some 1,200 Camp Fire Girls from Lincoln and the surrounding area.

The theme for the event, which will be from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock, is "Galaxy of Stars," and girls of all ages will perform dances from various countries — and will wear appropriate native costumes.

The older girls will do some Indian dancing and will present a modern dance to the song, "Aquarius."

The festival is an annual event planned for all Camp Fire Girls in the council.

The public is invited to the Folk Dance Festival, and there will be no admission charge.

Mrs. Hoffman Honored

The Lincoln Mrs. Jaycee group is quite an active organization, and the members set aside a special evening once a year to reward a dedicated and active fellow member — presenting her with the Dedicated Service Award.

This year's award recipient who was named Wednesday evening, April 15, is Mrs. Ron Hoffman, who is pictured above, being awarded the Dedicated Service Award for 1971, by Mrs. Gordon Kuhn, awards chairman.

At the meeting which was held at the Elks Club, four new members of the board of directors of the Lincoln Mrs. Jaycees were named. Elected to a two-year term on the board were Mrs. Richard Hill, Mrs. Clyde Mauk, Mrs. Charles Turek and Mrs. Harvey R. Hornig.

Mrs. Jerry Dolson, Mrs. Wayne Ruliffson, Mrs. Dale Schmitz and Mrs. Ken Meyer will remain on the board of directors for another year.

on a tour of the shops

This week on shopping tour we decided to take a "rest stop at the comfort station" and take a look at accessories for the home bathroom that range from matching sheets, towels, curtains and tablecloths to a one-piece total bathroom or shower environment.

You won't need anyone to hold your hand when you peek at bathroom accessories anymore — they are completely individualized and you are on your own putting together a very attractive room.

AT MILLER AND PAINE

Where you hang your hat is home, but where you hang your bath towels can attractively add to the room. A wall hanging towel rack in gold decor is square with scroll-like work in the center. A ring at each corner provides places for four decorative towels. Another lovely guest towel holder stands on a marble base and gold column with two cross bars for four hand towels.

Cosmetics are so attractively bottled these days that they are as nice to display as to use. Miller's has the perfect wall holder under $8, in gold and glass materials.

A counter family toothbrush-holder is one of the newer items on the market. It is made of plastic and acrylics, and holds six toothbrushes on a circular stand with a smoked acrylic lid, selling for under $6.

AT BRANDEIS

Decorating can be as imaginative as you are. Manufacturers are doing a great deal to support innovative ideas. For instance, Cannon has come out with a total line of linens and towels that go together. Towels, sheets, bedspreads and table cloths for circular tables to match make decorating colorful, yet easy. These coordinates are available in a 'Heavenly Daisy' pattern with a choice of colors including blue and green; pink, yellow and green; gold, green and brown — all on white backgrounds. Bedspreads sell for under $25, sheets for under $7, and bath towels for $5. Round table cloths in the same daisy design are available for a small bedroom table.

Crushed velvet is an elegant addition to any room, even the bath. A crushed velvet tankette set, with matching waste basket, tissue box and oval rug, is offered in royal blue, deep green, purple, black, red and gold.

Lady Linda quilted bedspreads — under $25 — add color to your bedroom in a variety of floral patterns and colors. Draperies to match the spreads may be special ordered through Brandeis.

Geometrics are popular not only in clothing, but in bath towels, as well. Stevens-Utica is producing a whole new world of geometric patterns in both sheets and towels. One of the newer patterns, 'Ravenna' is on the shelves at Brandeis. The imaginative color combinations of brown and black; orange and green; two-tone golds and blue and green are inspirational for planning a new color scheme in your home bathroom.

Accessories for the bathroom are necessarily utilitarian — but they still can be attractive. Take the shelves we found at Brandeis for example. Some are of plastic and come in a variety of colors—dark blue, lime green, bright yellow, and so forth—and they sell for less than $10. Wicker is coming of age for every room of the house, and wicker shelves in several colors, for under $15, have stands and stools to match—and they sell for less than $20 — and will add color and harmony to any room.

Clothes hampers, a must in most bathrooms, take on a new look with the barrel-shaped ones that Brandeis recently has introduced into its housewares department. The barrels, trimmed with a chrome strip, sell for under $15 and come in ice cream colors, including hot pink, bright yellow, orange, and lime — and the insides are of a contrasting color.

Lady bug, fish or turtle soap dishes of cast iron would be the perfect shower gift for a favorite bride-to-be, and they are only $2.

Marble counters have become the vogue in the most fashionable of bathrooms, and at Brandeis, we found bathroom bud vases, soap dishes, tumbler and toothbrush holders, and towel holders with marble bases. Little gold cupids hold them for less than $5.

Counters provide extra accessory room, and there is nothing more attractive than displaying your favorite guest towels on one of the many pretty holders we found there. One in particular has butterflies whose wings clamp together to hold the material. It sells for under $5—and still another is brass, more than three feet tall, and has arms to hold the towels. It sets on the floor and can be yours for less than $15.

Modern mirrors featuring circle in a square or a circle within a circle and bright colors are moderately priced, and the newest thing in bath scales is the Counselor line. A king, queen, owl, strawberry, whale, zodiac sign or sun are among the attractive motifs that adorn the scales which sell for less than $15.

AT CONSOLIDATED SUPPLY

A mirror offers the perfect excuse or solution for all of the "mirror, mirror, on the wall" enthusiasts and nowadays, in the way of bathroom fixtures, we are seeing ourselves all over.

We noticed that medicine cabinet mirrors are getting bigger so it's "all the better to see you my dear," and likewise, the cabinet storage space behind the mirror(s) is even larger in order to accommodate milady's beauty aids and ailing remedies. To shed some light on the subject, manufacturers now surround the unit with lighting fixtures for the perfect make-up light.

We paused from our shopping tour to take a look into the future in bathroom appliances and found Kohler's walls 'n' all bathing modules. The one-piece seamless units offer the total bathroom and-or shower environment in colorful avocado, New Orleans blue, harvest gold or conventional white fiberglass. All units have 75-inch high walls and built-in ledges for soaps and toiletries. The three styles include two shower coves — one of regular size and the second larger version with a built-in seat for relaxed showering. If the family has divided opinions on shower or bath, then the bath and shower module fulfills all needs. Price-wise, the bathing modules are cheaper because bath wall tiling is omitted and the unit actually saves 50 square feet of tiling. The homemaker will not only love the built-in custom look and luxury, but she will appreciate the easy cleaning. Incidentally, the shower coves and bath-shower alcove can all be equipped with a shower door or curtain. Unfortunately for eager Lincolmites, the bathing modules are not yet available in Lincoln or Nebraska, but we heard that they are on their way and will be here in the very near future. Meanwhile, keep singing in the shower!

BRIDGE: it's time to test your play

TEST YOUR PLAY

You are declarer with the West hand at Six Hearts and North leads the jack of clubs. You play the queen from dummy and win South's king with the ace. When you lead the A-K of hearts, it turns out that North started with the Q-10-8 and you must lose a trump trick. How would you now play the hand?

♠ K 6 4 3
♥ A Q 5
♦ A 7 5
♣ A 6 3

with a trump to cash the setting trick in clubs. If all goes well you can deposit one club on the spades and another on the diamonds. The only problem is which suit to play first.

Strangely enough, the proper method of play calls for tackling diamonds first. There is an excellent reason for this, as can be demonstrated by assuming that the North hand looks something like this:

♥ Q 10 8
♦ 9 7 3 2
♣ J 10 9 4

If you started by playing the

K-Q-A of spades, North would ruff the third one and cash the ten of clubs to put you down one.

But if you started by playing the A-K-Q of diamonds and learned that North originally had four diamonds (after South showed out on the third round), you could safely continue with a fourth round of diamonds and discard one of your clubs. You would then play the K-Q-A of spades and just get under the wire when you discarded your remaining club loser on the third round of spades. Your only loser on this method of play would be a trump.

Observe that if North proved to have precisely three diamonds you could not afford to continue with a fourth round of diamonds. (For example, let's suppose that North's two of diamonds were the two of spades.) In that case, you would next cash three rounds of spades —naturally hoping for the best — and then lead dummy's last diamond to get rid of your last club.

The underlying principle is simple enough. It is impossible to make the hand if North has less than three diamonds, so you proceed on the basis that he has three or more. You therefore lead diamonds first, to see how many he started with, and adjust your play thereafter depending on what develops. Leading diamonds first can never be the cause of losing the contract, but leading spades first sometimes will.

ABBY: 'nice' girls

DEAR ABBY: I have news for the girl in Eudora, Kan., who claims she is dateless because she's nice.

I happen to be a 26-year-old bachelor who lives in Eudora, so I think I'm in a position to know. I am no creep, and I've dated all kinds of girls, here and in other cities.

I feel sorry for a girl who doesn't get asked for dates, and if it makes her feel better to say it's because she's "too nice," it's all right with me. But that's not the real reason. There must be something wrong with her personality. A girl can't be too nice! Sure, a guy will take out an easy number just to prove to himself that he's a "man," but after he's used the girl for that purpose, she's had it.

Girls who put out may enjoy a rush of popularity for a while, but guys talk, and if the girl wants to settle down and be respectable, she'd better leave town.

Sock it to 'em, Abby. And keep telling young girls that men still want "good girls." Boys look for the other kind, so if a girl wants to end up with a man and not a boy, tell her to save herself.

ELDORA READER

DEAR ABBY: I got a chuckle over the letter from the girl in Eudora, Kan., who is dateless because she's "nice." Maybe there is something about Eudora that causes the trouble. When I went to high school there I never had a date either.

Tell her to hang on. If it takes 10 dateless years to find a husband as good as mine, it's worth it.

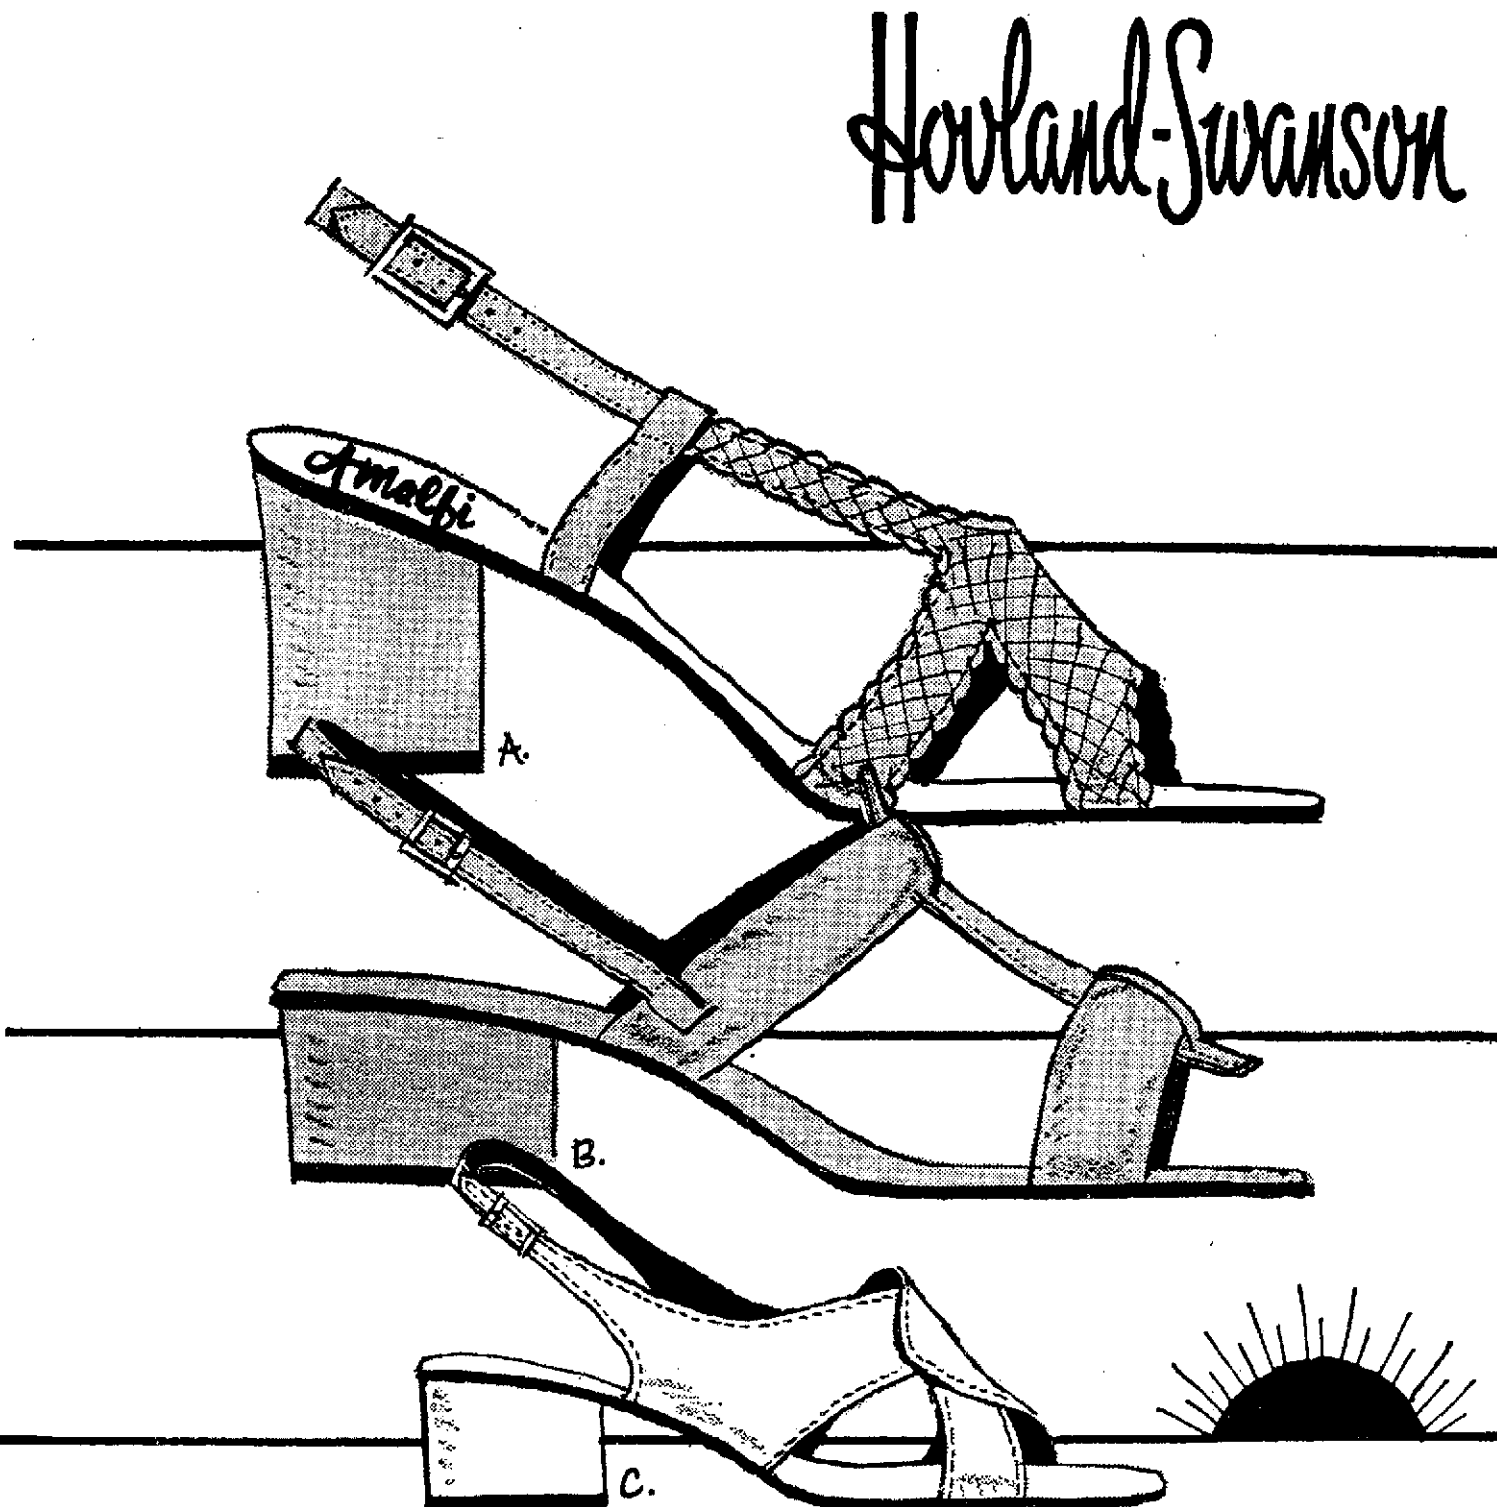

TERESA: E.H.S. CLASS OF '57

DEAR ABBY: This is for the nice girl from Eudora, Kan.:

My roommate is a junior in college and I am a freshman. We were "decent" in high school and it paid off. We have done a lot of dating in college mostly with guys who ask us out more than once because they have a good time. And we don't have to put out either. The guys who just want sex don't ask us twice. And who needs them?

Most fellows respect girls who say no! Here is our motto: "Friendship may blossom into love, but don't cheapen yourself and give love to gain friendship." The joy of true love is worth all the waiting it takes.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

By SIDNEY OMARR

Forecast For Friday

Capricorn can work with time; where "comebacks" are concerned, natives of this sign excel. You may put a Capricorn down, but it is next to impossible to score a knockout. Capricorn can take adversity because these people keep a constant eye to the future. The potential of most natives of this sign is tremendous. Some famous persons born under Capricorn include Richard Nixon, Muhammad Ali and Marlene Dietrich.

Bill Aimed At Improving Criminal Laws Given Initial Okay

By United Press International
The Legislature gave first round approval Thursday afternoon to a bill aimed at providing Nebraska with a set of technicality-proof criminal laws.

The bill (LB1019) was introduced at the request of the Unicameral's Judiciary Committee, and would establish a Nebraska Law Enforcement and Justice Committee, made of up state senators.

Speaking for the committee, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said it would serve as a "liaison" with the State Crime Commission.

A supporter of the proposal, Lincoln Sen. Roland Luedtke, said under the terms of the bill the Legislature could utilize the knowledge and research capabilities of the commission in drafting programs and legislation to fight crime.

The move resulted from a recommendation, endorsed by the commission, by its chairman, Attorney General Clarence Meyer.

He said by using the commission's abilities better criminal laws could be developed and the commission would be assured its work would actually result in legislation.

Under the present system, Meyer said and Luedtke agreed, there is no cooperation between the Legislature and the commission. Luedtke said as a result some of its work "sets on a shelf gathering dust."

The bill was included in a lot of "non-controversial" measures considered by the lawmakers during the afternoon session. It was approved 29-2.

The lawmakers also gave initial approval to a bill (LB497) which is aimed at encouraging physicians and dentists to locate in the rural areas.

Sponsor of the bill, Sen. Calvin Carsten of Avoca, said the proposal resulted from requests by a number of citizens from Weeping Water. He said they are now trying to get a new doctor.

Under the terms of the bill second class cities and villages could contract with medical and dental students to provide loans while they are in college — in return for a signed agreement to practice in that community upon graduation.

Carsten said it would be up to the city to work out the terms of the agreement, and he added it could include a provision to relieve the person of a percentage of the loan for staying a certain number of years.

DAS Organizational Measure Held

A bill that would permit the divisional organization of the Department of Administrative Services (DAS) to be established by its director was held Thursday by the Legislature's Appropriations Committee for study.

The measure, LB995, sponsored by Committee Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings, would repeal the present statutory organization of the department and permit reorganization at the discretion of the director.

"There are very few instances where state departments are organized by statute," DAS Director Gus Lieske told the committee. "Statutory responsibilities of the department are not changed, but the bill would permit greater flexibility in its organization."

Lieske also offered some amendments to "change the (department's) responsibilities slightly."

One amendment would require the department to have budget forms and instructions to the agencies by April instead of July and would move from September to August the deadline for the agency submission of budget requests.

Other amendments would permit DAS to lease outside office space and sublease to state agencies through a revolving account and would require department approval for consulting architects and for plans and contract specifications before construction of new buildings.

Before holding the bill for further study, particularly as to proposed amendments, the committee axed one proposed amendment that would permit negotiations with vendors if bids received by the purchasing agent were considered non-competitive.

Omaha Sen. David Stahmer said after-bid negotiations should be limited to the apparent low bidder in any attempt to obtain a more favorable price, but subjecting all bids to further negotiations would be opening a can of worms.

The state might benefit in "a few instances," but over the long haul this proposal would defeat the purpose of competitive bidding, he suggested.

Calvin Bryant, 46, Killed In Mishap

Lakeside (UPI)—Calvin Bryant, 46, of Hyannis, was killed when a 10-ton steel roller packer he was operating veered off the shoulder of Neb 2, overturned, and pinned him.

He was an employee of the Missouri Valley Construction Co. which is doing some repair work on the road.

An autopsy was being conducted to determine if he might have suffered a heart attack before his machine went off the road.

Survivors include Bryant's widow, four children and his mother, all of the Hyannis area.

By The Associated Press
Sen. Orval Keyes of Papillion attempted unsuccessfully Thursday to induce colleagues to endorse a proposition that the Douglas and Sarpy County lines not be crossed in fashioning of new legislative districts.

A resolution to this effect, No. 44, introduced by Keyes, was killed 36-2. Only Sens. Keyes and Loran Schmit of David City opposed the bill motion, made by Sen. George Syas of Omaha.

According to the 1970 federal census, each district in a 49-member Nebraska Unicameral ideally should contain 30,275 residents.

Syas explained that when legislative districts are carved out of Douglas County, a population excess of 25,000 remains. To fill out this district, Sarpy County must be en-

The Keyes resolution said that because of rapid population growth in Sarpy and Douglas Counties, quickly making outdated any legislative redistricting plan, higher population disparities should be allowed.

Syas said courts won't allow such discrepancies and said framers of new legislative districts are "shooting for" discrepancies no greater than three per cent.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said that if a redistricting plan is not acceptable to courts, senators would have to run from the state at large.

Part Of Fieldhouse Funds Earmarked For Beatrice Rec Center

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Thursday decided to dip into the proposed state office building and University of Nebraska fieldhouse funding pot to extract $695,000 for a recreation building at the Beatrice State Home.

Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice gained 44-0 approval for an amendment to LB87 which would fund construction of the facility.

But a host of other efforts to alter the bill were rejected, and the funding measure should be put to a final vote sometime next week.

Tax Hike

LB87 would increase the state cigarette tax from eight to 13 cents a pack, and allocate the $7 million in additional annual revenue equally between the office building and the fieldhouse.

With Thursday's change, each facility will be shorted about $50,000 during the first year only in order to finance the recreation center for the mentally retarded.

Sen. Richard Proud of Omaha opened a four-pronged assault on the bill prior to adoption of the amendment. Proud failed on a 10-31 vote in an effort to kill the bill before it ever reaches a final reading showdown.

Other Attacks

His three other attacks: —wipe out the fieldhouse allocation, and place the $3.5 million in additional anticipated revenue into the general fund, rejected 15-21.

—wipe out the fieldhouse allocation, and use the revenue to increase faculty and staff at the University of Nebraska Medical Center and provide free tuition, fees and books for needy medical students; rejected 14-21.

—wipe out the fieldhouse allocation, and use the money to construct a new NU College of Law, rejected 11-27.

Construction Fund

Sen. Duke Snyder of Omaha was rebuffed on a 13-26 count when he proposed that the fieldhouse allocation be eliminated and the $3.5 million in additional anticipated revenue be placed in a state capital construction fund.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who led a successful drive to add fieldhouse funding to the bill, said he views its final fate as somewhat uncertain. The measure needs 33 votes on final reading to begin immediate collection at the new tax rate.

Gov. J. James Exon has declined to say whether he would sign the bill or veto it. Thirty votes would be required to override a veto.

Termed Playhouse

Proud scorned the proposed fieldhouse as "a sports palace,"

"a fun house" and "a playhouse."

"Practically anything is more important at this time," he insisted.

"Don't vote as if the invisible shape of Bob Devaney was sitting to your left and the O Street merchants to your right," Proud pleaded.

Joining with Proud to support his motion to kill the bill were Sens. Ernest Chambers, Sam Klaver, P. J. Morgan, Harold Moylan, William Skarda and Snyder, all of Omaha; John DeCamp of Neligh, Gerald Stromer of Kearney and J. James Waldron of Callaway.

General Purpose

Supporters of the fieldhouse proposal said the facility is needed not only for NU basketball and other athletic events, but also a general purpose facility for the State Fair and for other public events.

"It's not a university building;

it's a state building," Sen. Herb Duis of Gothenburg said.

Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln, sponsor of LB87, and Carpenter both supported the Carstens amendment, but Carpenter told senators he "nope(s) you will stop there" in altering the bill.

Proud said the Beatrice facility provides "a sweet little sugar pill" to get the bill enacted.

Syas' Response

Responding to senators who suggested that the fieldhouse should be financed through the general fund, rather than via earmarking of cigarette tax revenue, Sen. George Syas of Omaha declared:

"Twenty years down here has shown me that the only way you get anything done is to earmark."

Both Proud and Snyder argued that the Legislature should appropriate money from the general fund for the facility if it determines that the building represents a high priority construction project at this time.

Sen. David Stahmer of Omaha said NU students should be polled on the matter of university building priorities.

Yugoslav Envoy Dies Of Wound

Stockholm (AP) — Yugoslav Ambassador Vladimir Rolovic died without having regained consciousness after being shot at point-blank range by two Croatian terrorists last week.

The 56-year-old ambassador died in a hospital respiratory unit with a bullet still lodged in his brain. A medical team keeping a 24-hour watch over him had never given any real hope of recovery, maintaining that "an operation cannot be attempted because of his extremely critical condition."

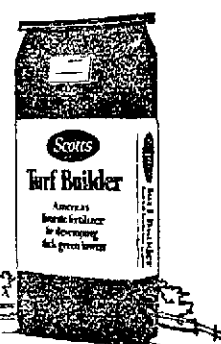

Relatives had kept a constant vigil at the ambassador's side.

Hanoi's Stand Is Rehash

Paris (AP) — North Vietnam's Xuan Thuy ended a six-week boycott of the Vietnam peace talks Thursday and delivered an uncompromising restatement of Communist peace terms.

The United States said the North Vietnamese were trying to dominate Indochina "at the point of a gun."

Thuy and U.S. negotiator David K. E. Bruce devoted much of the 109th weekly session to mutual accusations of refusing to negotiate while pursuing a military victory.

Thuy had boycotted the talks since March 4 to protest what he called U.S. "threats and acts of war" against North Vietnam.

After conferring with North Vietnamese leaders in Moscow during last week's Soviet Communist Party congress, he returned to the talks with a promise to newsmen of concrete new proposals for ending the war.

Mere Rehash

The proposals turned out to be a restatement of the two-year-old Communist peace terms, condensed into three points:

- Total and unconditional withdrawal of all American forces by June 30 of by "another reasonable date"
- Cessation of all U.S. bombing and reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam
- Establishment of a coalition regime in Saigon removing President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky from power

Bruce reiterated that these terms are unacceptable to the United States.

Thuy went a step further and warned that unless the Nixon administration accepts the Communist terms, North Vietnam will step up its penetration of Laos and Cambodia and "resolutely carry on the war of resistance until total victory."

Stubborn

Thuy's speech indicated that the leadership in Hanoi was less willing than ever to compromise over its demand for total and unconditional withdrawal of U.S. forces.

Bruce, in a sharp reply, told Thuy that "instead of wasting time and lives with self-serving propaganda and pursuing a fruitless quest for victory, you would do better to begin responding reasonably to the needs of peace."

"For more than two years now... you have avoided negotiation, you have refused to end the killing and you have pursued your desire to dominate the peoples of Indochina at the point of a gun. It is time for you to stop. On our side there is a sincere desire to end the war. But the actual return to peace depends on you."

85 Young Japanese Farmers Finish Three-Month NU Agriculture Study

Thursday was graduation day for 85 young Japanese farmers who completed a three-month agriculture program at the University of Nebraska East Campus.

The young men are part of a group of 185 in the United States under a program sponsored by the Japanese government to improve farm technology in Japan.

Clint Hoover, head of the Nebraska Center youth wing, said, "We like to have as many of these men live with an American farm family as possible. In many families they are treated as a son and we often have their American families in as visitors."

"Most of these young men will return to farming in Japan, however, many do work in the Japanese peace corps teaching agriculture in underdeveloped countries," Hoover said.

The young men spent the past two days demonstrating their knowledge of livestock production to their instructors and classmates.

After graduation, they will return to farms and agriculture-related businesses for a short visit before returning to their homeland in June.

The entire program is financed by the young men through their earnings and through a grant from the Japanese government to the National 4-H Foundation.

All-Male Priesthood Challenged By Report

©The New York Times

New York — A third official report commissioned by the American Roman Catholic bishops has declared that there is no solid theological foundation for Church policies banning women from the priesthood or restricting priests from marrying.

Regarding women priests, the report stated that "one can safely say that there are no scriptural or dogmatic arguments against the ordination of women to the priesthood, and in fact, some theological and pastoral reasons for so doing."

On the matter of married priests, it declared that "the simple theological fact is that celibacy is a charism bestowed by the Holy Spirit, and it does not necessarily coincide with the charism of priestly service."

The report also challenged the frequent argument that women cannot fulfill the symbolic role of the priest because, as females, they "cannot symbolize God who is portrayed in scripture as a male."

The report was written by the Rev. Carl J. Armbruster, a 42-year-old Jesuit theologian who teaches at the Bellarmine School of Theology at Loyola University of Chicago.

It is one of seven studies of aspects of the priesthood commissioned by the bishops in the spring of 1967. Four of them are due to be formally presented to the bishops at their spring meeting in Detroit April 27-29.

Thursday it became known that studies from the sociological and psychological perspectives had revealed that a majority of American priests reject the church's teachings against artificial birth control and believe that priests should be free to marry.

They also found, however, that priests maintain a "high degree of personal morale" and that only one priest in five would be likely to marry if given the choice.

Commission Sets April 29 Hearing On Bus Request

The State Railway Commission announced Thursday that hearing on the application of the Lincoln City Bus Lines to discontinue bus service has been set for April 29.

The commission said the hearing scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. in its hearing room at Lincoln is open to all interested persons.

The City of Lincoln and the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce's transportation department have filed formal protests to the transit company's discontinuance-of-service request.

Exon Promotes 'Number One' At 15 Airports

Gov. J. J. Exon made airport stops at 15 Nebraska cities Thursday in promotion of the "Number One" theme.

Before his departure from Lincoln, the governor reiterated Nebraska "is or can be Number One in almost anything we set our minds to."

The "Number One Theme" was conceived by J. D. Harris of McCook after Nebraska's 1970 Cornhusker football team was adjudged No. 1 in the nation.

Harris Went Also

Harris accompanied the governor in the promotion tour along with Bruce Staub of Newman Grove, named state star farmer by the Future Farmers of America; Jeff Kinney, representing the Nebraska Cornhuskers, and Michelle Miller, designer of the Number One lapel pin.

Before take-off, Gov. Exon pinned a Number One pin on Kenneth Bourne, Lancaster County Board chairman, and shook hands with other Lincoln civic leaders.

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf missed the ceremonies, reportedly because he awaited the governor's departure from another area of the Lincoln Municipal Airport.

Budget Comments

At his stop in Omaha, Exon said he will "do no more compromising" on the matter of the University of Nebraska budget, the Associated Press reported.

Exon commented in regards to published reports that he and University Chancellor D. B. Varner are only $1.5 million apart in their opinion on how much money the university should have.

They were originally $18 million apart.

Tuition Raise Hit

During his Kearney stop, Exon said he opposes an increase in student tuition at the four state colleges as proposed by the Legislature's budget committee.

Students at the state colleges "already are bearing more of the cost than at any other school in the state," the governor said in suggesting the committee should study the facts.

Exon said he hoped the people of Nebraska "will get behind me now" in his efforts to hold spending within the limits of the state's sales and income tax revenues.

In the airport stops across the state, Exon pinned the Number One lapel buttons on the local mayors and other leading citizens of the communities.

Airport stops were also made at Fremont, Columbus, Grand Island, Hastings, McCook, North Platte, Sidney, Scottsbluff, Alliance, Chadron, Valentine and O'Neill.

Delegates Told Most Disabled Persons Come From Disadvantaged Areas

Washington (AP) — A Negro leader, Sterling Tucker, called attention Thursday to the fact that most disabled persons in the United States come from urban ghettos, Indian reservations, isolated rural areas and Mexican-American communities.

In an address at the annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, with some 4,000 delegates, Tucker said consideration must be given to the fact that disadvantaged persons are far less able to cope with handicaps and are the most likely to suffer the most.

Tucker, vice chairman of the District of Columbia city council and an executive director of the Washington chapter of the National Urban League, substituted on the program in the Washington Hilton Hotel, for the late Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the Urban League, who died in Nigeria.

Tucker also called attention to the plight of disabled Vietnam veterans.

While unemployment among all veterans "is inexcusably high," Tucker said, "it is substantially higher among black veterans, many more of whom are educationally disadvantaged than are white veterans."

Presided over by Harold Russell, an amputee who heads the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, the meeting saluted the courage of handicapped persons and presented awards to those who have overcome disabilities and to citizens who have helped them.

The President's Trophy, the nation's highest award to the courage and determination of the handicapped, was presented to twin brothers, Richard and Robert Santin, 31, from Fullerton, Neb., who despite a birth defect of muscular dystrophy that confined them to wheel chairs, are self-taught and self-employed as electronic technicians.

A distinguished service award from the committee went to Rep. Daniel J. Flood of Pennsylvania, a principal backer of legislation to assist the disabled.

This highest honor to an individual who works in the cause of the handicapped was awarded Flood, the committee said, in appreciation of his concern and contributions.

As a champion of the disabled in volunteer work, a similar award went to Don Davis of Oklahoma Governor's Committee and the veterans employment representative for his state. He was cited for uniting business, labor, government, civic groups, professional

A first prize in a national "Ability Counts" contest and $1,000 donated by the Disabled

American Veterans went to Raelene Ada Shelley, 17 high school senior from Mesa, Ariz., ment, civic groups, professional organizations and veterans organizations in a statewide campaign in behalf of the handicapped.

Now, Amway gives you a choice.

Amway S-A-8 LIMITED PHOSPHATE LAUNDRY COMPOUND

Amway S-A-8 NO PHOSPHATE LAUNDRY COMPOUND

Laundry and clean the LIMITED PHOSPHATE or the NO PHOSPHATE way.

Why two new Amway laundry detergents? Because there is current concern that phosphate, when not removed by sewage treatment may stimulate algae growth in our lakes and streams. So Amway now offers you a choice of two laundry compounds for best laundering results with minimum phosphate use.

Amway S-A-8 Limited Phosphate, the great concentrated laundry compound that gets clothing cleanest . . . that helps make wash-and-wear look like new . . . that has the muscle to clean in hard water, in cool water . . . that does the best job for you, under any conditions. And yet, for the second time, Amway has reduced the phosphorus content (now only 8.7% maximum) without sacrificing its cleaning power. Just 4 grams of phosphorus per washload. If you have a good septic tank system . . . or if your sewage system has phosphate removal equipment, you'll probably use S-A-8 Limited Phosphate for all laundry. Otherwise you may choose it for special jobs, such as heavily soiled clothes, permanent-press, some synthetics, or for washing in hard or cool water.

Amway S-A-8 No Phosphate is the laundry compound that puts absolutely no phosphate down the drain. We believe, based on extensive research and testing, that it is the best "no phosphate" laundry product on the market today . . . bar none! Does an excellent job on cottons, and on general laundry when not too heavily soiled, and when used with good, hot, reasonably soft water. Amway S-A-8 No Phosphate performs when other no phosphate detergents fail. Superior to soap for automatic machines . . . forms no soap curd to settle in fabrics or collect in drains. And your Independent Distributor of Amway products will be glad to prove it to you, by actual demonstration. So, wherever phosphate in sewage is considered a problem, you can use Amway S-A-8 No Phosphate with confidence.

Both kinds of S-A-8 contain non-ionic bio-degradable surfactant ingredients for easy breakdown in septic tanks or sewage systems. Both kinds of S-A-8 are high-density products so you use only a fraction of a cup per washload for real economy. Both kinds of S-A-8 are specially formulated to be easily rinsed away, leaving no harsh residues. Both kinds of S-A-8, like all Amway products, carry Amway's famous unconditional guarantee of satisfaction or your money back.

Amway's other "No Phosphate" and "Low Phosphate" products . . . there are enough of them to clean everything in and around your home. Seven with no phosphate whatsoever . . . L.O.C. "regular" and "high suds" for general cleaning, walls, floors, windows, etc. . . Dish Drops for dishes, "drifab" to make clothes water-resistant, Fabric Softener and Anti-Soil as laundry additives, and Car Wash for the cleanest car on the block. Three "super muscle" cleaners with negligible (less than 1 1/2 %) phosphorus content . . . Industroclean for the toughest cleaning jobs like washing kitchen fans . . . Redu to bleach out iron-stain yellowing . . . and Zoom to spray away grease and grime from walls, woodwork, etc. And three special purpose laundry products (Tri-Zyme stain remover; Smashing White pre-soak; and Dry Bleach) all have phosphorus content limited to not over 8.7%. They're concentrated, with low units of phosphate per washload. You use less for every job . . . put less phosphate down the drain.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is six or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

Sink Scorers Past Foes In Record-Breaking Time

... SETS MARK AS KANSAS RELAYS OPEN

Lawrence, Kan. P — Smooth-striding Sid Sink of Bowling Green University got the 1971 Kansas Relays off to a record-breaking start Thursday with a mark of 28 minutes, 42 seconds in the six-mile run.

Sink defeated his nearest opponent by 24.4 seconds and knocked 2.8 seconds off the mark set last year by Larbi Cukada of Fort Hays State College.

Oukada started the 24-lap grand Thursday but was forced to drop out because of a stomach ache.

The six-mile run was one of three open events completed Thursday.

Chuck Ceronsky, running for the Twin Cities Track Club, Collegeville, Minn., won the marathon for the second consecutive year. He was nearly two minutes off his 1970 record of 2:29:04, when he was competing for St. John's Minn. College.

Crowder Terms Blacks' Boycott 'Solved' At CU

Boulder, Colo. — "The problem is solved."

Those were the words of Eddie Crowder, University of Colorado head football coach signaling the end of a boycott by black players on the team.

A university spokesman said a team meeting was held Wednesday afternoon and that problems were resolved which opened the way for resumption of regular spring practice Thursday with all players present.

Black players had charged Crowder with racial discrimination and with being "insensitive and indifferent to the reasonable needs and expectations of black people."

Crowder had said the dispute stemmed from a "misunderstanding" but declined to comment further.

Paper Seeks End Of Football Field

Omaha (UPI) — The student newspaper at the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO), the Gateway, has editorially called for converting the UNO football field into a parking lot.

The paper said such a conversion "is not a pleasant alternative, but it seemingly is the only one."

The editorial, written by Gateway editor Dave Mack, said if the matter comes to a question of priorities, the field is more of a luxury than a necessity.

New York (AP) — The Dow Jones average climbed to its highest level in almost two years and a record number of issues changed hands as the stock market rallied Thursday for the eighth consecutive session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks closed up 5.62 at 938.17, though it receded from its best levels of the day. This was the highest point for the Dow since May 27, 1969 when it closed at 938.60.

A total of 1,710 issues changed hands on the Big Board with 762 issues advancing and 694 declining.

Big Board volume was the fourth highest in history with 22.54 million shares traded compared to 19.44 million shares Wednesday.

"The market's action today was reflective of the psychological impact of the apparent improvement in relations between the U.S. and Red China," said Monte Gordon, an analyst with Bacche & Co.

Among the economic developments encouraging investors at present, brokers said, was the news the gross national product rose $28.5 billion in the first quarter to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1.02 trillion. This was lower than the Nixon administration's projection of more than $30 billion, but it was the largest quarterly increase ever.

Other favorable economic developments included news that auto sales in the first 10 days of April were a record, that industrial production increased in March and that March's increase in personal income Omaha (AP) — Hog prices turned 25-50 higher Thursday as the trade did an about face from recent sessions.

Values on the active market moved up as receipts held at around 7,500 and the wholesale pork market turned mostly lower.

Rail prices on most pork product cuts were steady to 1.00 lower with some light loins as much as 2.25 off late Wednesday.

Thursday a short load of butcher hogs drew 17.50 for outside top money in Omaha while the bulk top moved ahead to 17.25.

Sows under 650 lbs collected 14.50-15.25.

Slaughter steers and heifers were in short supply, however, the small volume on offer sold steady in a clean-up action that was fairly active.

A load of high-choice and prime 1,275 lb steers brought 33.75.

POSTCARD

by

Stan Klapalanga

A blowy wind came up in the night. The hard palm fronds clattered like a hundred shutters banging back and forth. The slender coco palm — tall as a three-story building — leans against the prevailing winds. The leaves, cut zig-zag, don't hold the blowing air.

It's engineered for tropical storms.

The early morning is stormy and gray over the sea. The island of Lahaina, dark and misty on the horizon. The warm air smells of rain.

I was sleeping like a child when a small child (who should have been asleep) woke me up yelling, "Mama! Mama!"

I went out on the lanai. He was sitting under a coco palm, weeping. About three years old.

I went out and rescued him. I said "What's your name? Where do you live?"

He said his name was "Blodgett" — that's what it sounded like. Turned out his real monicker was Horace. The kid was giving me his alias.

I found his mama a few cottages away. Seems Horace gets up early and wanders. When he gets tired of that he sets up a fire alarm yell. Somebody saves him. A boy born to room service.

Since it was about 6 o'clock — (Horace had destroyed me) — I got up and made coffee and watched the storm blow in.

Stormy Hawaii days are when the Hawaiian gods are aroused. The old Polynesian gods. On stormy nights the akua — the spirits — are seen marching with flaming torches. The long-dead kings carried aloft. Priests — the kahunas — chanting prayers.

A beach boy told me "Den you watch out brudda! Dose akua make you pikia. Plenty trouble."

"Kona weather" they call it. The storms come up from the Kona coast on the Big Island — Hawaii.

Kona weather lasts three days — that's how long it takes for the Hawaiian gods to calm down.

If you meet a Hawaiian with a fishing pole over his shoulder, don't say "Howzit brudda? You going fishing?"

The fish will hear it. They won't bite.

It's also bad luck for the fisherman to eat bananas. Even see bananas. That's pretty hard when the country is full of bananas. (We had banana hot cakes this morning. So that takes care of my fishing for the day.)

Down in Fiji you shouldn't go near a woman for three weeks before an important fishing trip. Otherwise the sharks will get you. (That's a choice for you! Somebody's always taking the joy out of life.)

The rain is moving across the sea. A gray curtain. It's Kona slashing, drum beat tropical rain that moves in for fifteen minutes and then moves out.

I think we'll celebrate this day by sacking out. Let it rain.

Once the sea here between Maui and Lahaina was full of whaling ships. New England whalers here when ice covered the whaling seas in the Antarctic.

They were a rowdy bunch. The old jail where they put them is in Lahaina town on Jail Street.

It took a couple of years to fill a whaler with whale oil. They refilled their salt beef casks in the islands. Paying by weight. I ran into the way it was done by a Mr. Charman who had a way of making it pay.

The verbatim recipe is preserved in the Hawaii archives.

"First ye gits ye a barrel an' sits it up an' puts a stone in the bottom to hold it steady, then ye puts in some beef and some salt an' another stone — case there be a wind blowin' — an' so on. Ye know, them stones give it a fine flavor."
